

McGovern, Wallace Up: Lindsay Out

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern has established himself as a major contender for the Democratic presidential nomination by scoring a smashing victory in a Wisconsin primary that knocked New York Mayor John V. Lindsay out of the race for the White House.

The South Dakota senator, making the breakthrough he had forecast here, ran strongly in both urban, blue-collar areas and rural, farm regions Tuesday to capture seven of Wisconsin's nine congressional districts.

He won 54 of the state's 67 votes at the Democratic national convention, increasing his total to 94.5 of the 3,016 convention votes, one behind Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

"It clearly establishes me as a major contender in the public mind," McGovern told a reporter who asked what he thought the results meant. "I really think we received a boost tonight that could take us all the way."

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, in another strong showing after his Florida primary victory three weeks ago, rode late rural returns into second place by a narrow margin over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Humphrey led in two districts with 13 convention votes.

President Nixon easily won the state's 28 GOP convention delegates in the Republican primary.

In the Democratic balloting, returns from 98 per cent of Wisconsin's 3,294 precincts gave McGovern 30 per cent, Wallace 22 per cent and Humphrey 21 per cent. The other nine Democrats trailed far behind.

Muskie, once the overwhelming Democratic frontrunner, suffered another smashing setback with a fourth place finish and only 10 per cent of the vote. This could cripple his ability to raise funds for crucial primaries ahead in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Ohio.

He vowed to press on and said those states are "more favorable ground."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington finished fifth in Wisconsin after a third place finish in Florida and conceded, "I'd like to have done better."

An aide denied rumors he would quit the race, saying Jackson plans a major effort in Ohio.

Lindsay, however, looked at returns placing him sixth after his poor fifth in Florida and said, "I don't think I can honestly deny them. Hence, I am withdrawing as a candidate."

The total number of votes in the Democratic primary was four times that in the GOP contest, indicating many Republicans took advantage of the state law allowing voters to cast ballots in either primary. McGovern and Wallace appeared to be major beneficiaries of the GOP crossovers.

Slightly more than half of Wisconsin's voters usually vote Republican in presidential elections—Democrats have carried it only once since 1948—indicating that as many as one-third of the Democratic votes could have been crossovers.

As expected, McGovern won easily in Madison, home of the University of Wisconsin, and did well in other college towns in a state where rivals conceded his year of planning had put together one of the best political organizations they had ever seen.

Both McGovern and Wallace, however, ran strongly in the blue-collar areas of Kenosha, Racine and Green Bay, as well as the more rural areas.

Humphrey made his best showing in the black districts of Milwaukee and the sprawling 7th District along the Minnesota border.

The one-two showing of McGovern and Wallace constituted a massive protest vote since those two candidates, more than their rivals, campaigned against things as they are, especially on the tax issue which dominated campaign oratory.

All of the contenders called for tax reform with the top four finishers urging heavier taxation of corporations and the wealthy to ease the burden on lower- and middle-income taxpayers. Property taxes in Wisconsin are among the highest in the country.

McGovern, whose campaign strategy has long been based on making a creditable showing in New Hampshire—where he ran a strong second to Muskie with 37.1 per cent—and winning or coming close in Wisconsin, declined to claim the frontrunner's mantle.

"There's a certain amount of hazard in being put in the frontrunner position," McGovern told widely cheering supporters at his primary night headquarters.

But he said "we have won a great victory today. There's no question about it."

McGovern said he would campaign in selected congressional districts of Pennsylvania while making an all-out effort in Massachusetts. Both states hold primaries April 25.

While McGovern prepared to leave for two days of meetings in California, his wife headed for Massachusetts where Muskie is his major rival.

Muskie meets in Chicago today with his top financial advisers.

Wallace called his showing a victory because it was "so much better than we expected," and said it "makes me a serious candidate in the presidential race."

He outlined plans to campaign in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Tennessee, North Carolina, West Virginia, Maryland and Michigan.

N. Viets Open New Front; Thieu Urges Army Defense

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese broadened their seven-day offensive below the demilitarized zone today and opened a new front 75 miles north of Saigon with tank, infantry and artillery assaults.

The enemy also intensified attacks in the central highlands, where North Vietnamese tanks were reported to have pushed to within four miles of a government fire base. All these operations made up what amounts to a three-front drive.

Field reports said the attacks north of Saigon were directed at towns and bases near the Cambodian border.

"This is the decisive battle," President Nguyen Van Thieu declared in a nationwide television and radio address. "I call on the army to defend our country. I call on the people to do your best to support the battle front."

While the Saigon government's northern defense line held along the Cua Viet-Dong Ha River 10 miles below the DMZ, Quang Tri, the provincial capital nine miles to the south, was threatened by fighting on the southeast, south, southwest and northwest.

Two fights erupted six miles south and nine miles southeast of the town in the French Indochina War's "Street Without Joy" area along the coast and Highway One. Government forces reported 47 of the enemy and two of their own men killed and six South Vietnamese wounded.

Ten miles southwest of the province capital, Fire Base Pedro was under heavy attack.

but a marine battalion was reported holding on. Pedro was Quang Tri's last major defense position in that direction.

South Vietnamese bombers attacked tank columns on the move 12 miles northwest of the threatened town and 40 miles to the southwest just over the Laotian border. Pilots claimed they destroyed 11 of the tanks and killed 40 North Vietnamese soldiers.

Ground fighting also was reported at points seven and 12 miles northwest of Quang Tri, and the Saigon command claimed 65 North Vietnamese killed. It said four government troops were killed and 17 wounded.

Allied officials believe that both Quang Tri and Hue, 35 miles to the southeast, are objectives of the North Vietnamese offensive, and today North Vietnamese troops ambushed a South Vietnamese armored column on a jungle road about 15 miles southwest of Hue.

The column was reported trying to fight its way through with the help of U.S. helicopter gunships flying through heavy anti-aircraft fire.

North Vietnamese gunners also kept up rocket and mortar attacks on two firebases south of Hue.

Meanwhile, a steady rain drenched the battlefield in Quang Tri Province, curtailing U.S. and South Vietnamese strikes on North Vietnamese tanks and artillery positions south of the DMZ.

Before the rains set in, U.S. fighter-bombers flew nearly 250 strikes across the northern tier Tuesday for the second successive day, and the B52 bomber fleet added another 40 strikes.

More than a score of fighters attacked radar and surface-to-air missile sites threatening allied planes from inside North Vietnam's half of the six-mile-wide DMZ and just to the north of it. The U.S. Command said four installations were destroyed.

Informants said the weather over North Vietnam had not cleared enough for massive retaliatory raids there, but they are still planned when the clouds lift. They said continued overcast is predicted for Thursday and Friday over the North.

Grand Union Clears the First Hurdle

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

Proponents of the construction of a Grand Union supermarket on the site of the vacant St. Ann's Convent on Broadway won a battle at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting by the barest of majorities, a 7-6 vote.

But Acting Mayor T. Robert Gallo is in a position to win the war by exercising his veto powers.

Gallo did not comment on the Council's approval of Grand Union's request for a rezoning to build the supermarket at Broadway and Orchard Street.

"I have not seen the legislation" (officially), he said. "I will make a decision when it reaches my desk."

Gallo, as acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Francis R. Koenig who is vacationing in Florida has all the power and duties of the mayor with the exception of removing appointed officials from office. He has three choices in regards to the Grand Union legislation passed by the Council. He can sign it. He can veto it. Or he can allow it to lie on his desk for five days after which it becomes law.

vote on the Grand Union issue. The alderman-at-large votes only in cases of ties.

The first tie occurred when the Committee Report from the Laws and Rules Committee on the Grand Union Rezoning was voted. The Laws and Rules Committee issued a (rare) negative report, noting that the Planning Board had also rejected Grand Union's proposal.

The ensuing, often heated debate among the aldermen centered around that argument. Proponents of Grand Union treated the two projects, Broadway East and Grand Union, as separate entities. Opponents of Grand Union said the two were linked together.

Supporters of Grand Union included Alderman Joseph McGrane (D-Second Ward), Biran Smith (R-Third Ward), Thomas Davitt, (R-Seventh Ward), Clifford G. Sinsabaugh (D-10th Ward), Edward Norton (D-12th Ward), Titus B. Sims (R-13th Ward) and Mancuso.

Council approves $2.5 million in new construction. Story on Page 2.

Voting against it were the other six aldermen: John Coffey (D-First Ward), Clarence Stoutenberg (D-Fourth Ward), John E. Finch (D-Fifth Ward), Quirk, Emilio A. Primo Jr. (D-Eighth Ward) and Edmond J. Roux (R-Ninth Ward).

The vote was 6-6 among the aldermen when Mancuso asked Acting Majority Leader Primo to take the president's chair so that Mancuso could make a Biran Smith (R-Third Ward) statement. "I was told this evening that I would be occupying the president's chair, Mancuso said. "It's more like the hot seat. I have a slight feeling on how a condemned man must feel when he's about to be sentenced to the electric chair."

Mancuso said his vote was one of the most difficult in his Council career "because I have been honored with the position of Majority Leader. I have worked closely with the mayor and have the greatest respect for him. I feel badly putting the president of the Council (Gallo) in the position he's in."

But Mancuso concluded by stating, "I see no reason why Grand Union should be denied. Reluctantly, I must vote yes."

The issue was further compounded by a statement from Edwin M. Ford, president of Kingston Neighbors Housing Development Fund, who told the aldermen prior to the vote, that plans were being made to construct 60 units of senior citizen housing on the St. Anne's site. Ford said the organization had contacted FHA officials in Albany who indicated the project might be feasible and eligible for federal funds. "The next step would be working out the legal details," he said. "It's a proposal. That's as far as we've gone on it."

Ford told the Kingston Neighbors had been working on the proposal "for the last few weeks."

Primo cited the proposal in his argument against Grand Union. He said that he had a list of 80 senior citizens who needed the type of housing Kingston Neighbors was proposing. "By voting in Grand Union we're not even giving those people a chance," he said.

Alderman Quick was the main spokesman against Grand Union, contending emphatically that the construction of the supermarket at Broadway could ruin the City Hall Plaza project. Quick said the city might realize only about $15,000 in taxes from Grand Union but that three times that amount would be realized from City Hall Plaza.

Sinsabaugh, the main speaker for Grand Union, along with Sims, brought forth the statement from one of the developers of City Hall Plaza that he (the developer) was not concerned about competition from Grand Union. "In fact, they welcome the competition," Sinsabaugh said.

Gallo is expected to announce his position on Thursday.

offensive, Abrams has had to suspend the B52 bombing campaign over the Ho Chi Minh trail, used by the enemy to funnel troops and supplies down from the North. The arrival of the additional bombers is likely to bring a resumption of this effort.

Abrams also is concerned with buildup in the tri-border area of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos from which North Vietnam is expected to launch new offensives against South Vietnam's Central Highlands. Hanoi is believed to have about 50,000 troops in the area.

Even a limited bombing attack on the North evidently would raise the political hackles of Nixon's critics.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Tuesday there should be no use of American air power over the North. To do so, he said, would only mean the death or captivity of more American pilots.

Flamboyant Ex-Congressman Was 63

Adam Powell Dies in Miami Hospital

MIAMI (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, the flamboyant, former congressman who swept through life with beautiful women on his arm, a sermon on his lips and an adoring Harlem at his feet, has died after a long illness. He was 63.

His death at Jackson Memorial Hospital Tuesday night was attributed to complications stemming from an earlier prostate operation.

He had been confined to the hospital's intensive care unit since he was airlifted by the U.S. Coast Guard from his Bahamian retreat March 17.

The first black elected to Congress from the East, Powell also became the first congressman in modern times excluded by a vote of the House.

He was turned out in 1967 for misusing funds and defying the courts, some 22 years after he was first sent to Washington.

Powell was re-elected in a special election one month later by his New York constituents who packed his 10,000-member Abyssinian Baptist church on Sundays hearing him admonish, "Keep the faith, baby."

However, he did not try to reclaim his seat.

In 1968, without making a single campaign appearance in Harlem, Powell was re-elected again, by a 7-1 majority—the same margin by which the Supreme Court ruled the following June that Congress had exceeded its constitutional power in barring him.

But he got neither the $55,000 in back pay nor restoration of the seniority that made him chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee.

Following a bout with cancer in 1969, Powell announced he would run again. But he was narrowly defeated in a six-man Democratic primary by Charles Rangel.

Before Congress kept him out, Powell was attacked for his absenteeism, his junketing, for being delinquent in income taxes, for keeping his estranged wife on his payroll for $20,000 without duties and for his growing identification with the Black Power movement.

The grandson of a slave, Powell was born Nov. 29, 1908 in New Haven, Conn., the son of a Baptist preacher who preceded him as spiritual leader of Abyssinian's flock.

When Powell was airlifted from his Bahamian retreat, Darlene Expose, a woman he had introduced to newsmen as his wife, accompanied him.

During the final days of his life, his third wife Yvette, from whom he had been estranged since 1963, engaged Darlene in a court fight in Miami over Powell's body and estate.

He had been divorced twice before.

Powell's will specified that his body be cremated, with the ashes to be scattered over the island of South Bimini.

$2.5 Million Figure Listed

Council Approves New Construction

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON The Common Council gave its unanimous approval to more than two and a half million dollars of new construction in the city at Tuesday night's meeting at city hall.

The proposed City Hall Plaza in Broadway East was approved, calling for the construction of a $2 million shopping center. The rezoning of the Esso Gas Station at Albany Avenue and Flatbush Avenue, with plans for $300,000 in construction was also approved along with a proposal from Route 9 Corp. to build a $2 million middle-income housing project, off Flatbush Avenue.

Also approved was a proposal from Friendly Ice Cream Company to build in the uptown area. Phase II of the Rondout Neighborhood Center also passed, budgeted at $190,000.

The aldermen also gave their stamp of approval to new stringent laws regarding pawn shops in the city. Under that legislation one-year permits will now be issued to "reputable persons" to operate pawn shops.

The owners will be required to keep detailed records of all transactions and make those records available to the city clerk and the chief of police. The new law requires that daily records be kept and turned over to the police every morning before 10 a.m. Physical descriptions of the persons doing business with the pawn brokers will also be required and in the event of suspected stolen merchandise, the pawnbroker will have to give the police the persons' name.

Violation of the law carries a fine of $500 or three months in jail, or both. The legislation was recommended by Mayor Francis R. Koenig last year in order to stem the rising tide of burglaries and robberies in Kingston. It is the opinion of law enforcement officials that some of the stolen merchandise finds its way into some area pawnshops.

Koenig was also given permission by the Council to sign a letter of intent with state and federal officials to continue work on plans for the development of a marina at Kingston Point.

The Route 9 proposal is being developed through the FHA's 236 program which will hold rents down to the $150 a month range. The city was required to sign an agreement, however, on taxes in order to get federal approval. Route 9 will be exempt from city (land taxes) but will instead pay 16 per cent of its gross basic rents to the city. The annual payment was estimated at $35,000.

The aldermen also approved new contracts for the three top Department of Public Works officials. Charles J. Cole, superintendent, will get a raise from his present $12,573 a year to $14,045 at the end of next year.

Emerson Mayes, the assistant superintendent, who now gets $10,003, will be raised to $11,573 at the end of 1973 and assistant Woodrow M. Diehl, who is now paid $9,100 will be receiving $10,320 when the two-year contracts run out in 1973.

The aldermen also amended the Bingo Ordinance to allow Congregation Agudas Achim to hold bingo sessions on Sunday nights.

A total of $3,000 was transferred from the contingency account to the special bus account to pay for the city's bus operation. The city has been leasing a bus from Jerry Ausanio for $365 a week since Jan. 17. According to Mayor Koenig, it has been a losing proposition for the city.

A resolution from Alderman Edwin J. Roux (R-Ninth Ward) asking that a tranquilizer gun be purchased (at an approximate cost of $150) for the city dog catcher was offered. Roux also asked that the dog catcher be given the authority to issue summonses to owners of unleashed dogs when the dogs are apprehended. He also proposed that the fines for harboring an unlicensed dog be raised from the current $2 to $5 for the first offense and $10 for the second. The aldermen also received notice of a $20,000 lawsuit from Antonio Rios of 61 Furnace Street who claimed that her son Francisco (age not given) was assaulted by a city police officer, James Brodhead at a submarine shop on Broadway on Dec. 13 of last year. Mrs. Rios claimed that the officer struck her son in the face without provocation. The case was referred to Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein.

Tough Road Ahead for Muskies

McGovern Makes Believers Out of Many

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — For nearly 15 months, Sen. George McGovern has been telling people his political game plan would work and send him into the front rank of Democratic presidential candidates. Few believed him until today.

McGovern made them believers with a sweeping victory in the Wisconsin presidential primary Tuesday, installing himself as a formidable contender in the contests ahead.

The South Dakota senator has a long way to go, but so does everybody else in the race. And he has come a long way in a campaign he declared on Jan. 17, 1971.

His rating in the national public opinion polls has been low; he said he would change that in the primaries. The politicians called him a nice guy who wouldn't win; he said he could and would prove it. They said he was too far left for the taste of the Democratic establishment; McGovern set out to show that he was viable, acceptable—and that the establishment doesn't count that much any more.

As Gary Hart, McGovern's national campaign director described it, the political plan was based on the premise that there are two wings in the Democratic party and that in the end, there would be two prime presidential contenders. "Our goal has always been to occupy one of those wings, and then shoot it out with whoever occupied the other wing in the last two or three primaries," Hart said.

The Wisconsin win was a major step in that effort, but there will have to be more in primaries ahead.

For if Wisconsin proved that McGovern can be a winner, it also showed that the impact of one Tuesday's outcome may not be as bad as that he suffered in Florida on March 14.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, an also-ran in Wisconsin, came to the state with the

AP Analysis

It did him no good Tuesday, and after a battering that was almost as bad as that he suffered in Florida on March 14, Muskie quit the race.

Muskie said he expected to find "more favorable ground" in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania on April 25.

McGovern will be his chief contestant in Massachusetts, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in Pennsylvania.

In the buildup for the Massachusetts contest, McGovern did gain more than a psychological boost, for the Wisconsin primary eliminated

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York as a presidential candidate. Lindsay quit the race after a sixth-place finish.

Had he stayed in, Massachusetts would have been one of his major targets, and he would have cut into the liberal vote that is McGovern's base.

Furthermore, the clout McGovern showed in Wisconsin, is sure to help him raise money, not only for Massachusetts, but to keep him in funds all the way to the costly California primary on June 6 and New York on June 20.

Muskie may face increasing financial difficulty. He needs a big win, and soon.

Humphrey didn't do himself any good with his third place Wisconsin finish behind Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. A victory in a state where he was favored until McGovern came on strong in the waning days of the campaign, could have installed him as the national frontrunner.

Now there is none. And in the current situation, the Nebraska presidential primary on May 16 is likely to take on new significance as a Midwestern battleground to test McGovern against Humphrey.

McGovern's early announcement of candidacy was designed to give him time to gain national recognition before the campaign year.

He fashioned strong organizations in New Hampshire, where he gained 37.1 per cent of the vote in the showing that began to slow Muskie, and in Wisconsin.

He proved himself a tough campaigner, home in on points that proved vulnerable, as in his New Hampshire demand that Muskie match his disclosure of campaign contributions.

Dismissed as a one-issue, McGovern talked about other issues, and campaign director Hart said the old image is gone.

He said McGovern was perceived by the Wisconsin voters as a candidate committed to change at a time when the people want change and a vehicle for something more than protest.

As McGovern told it, Wallace got protest votes, while the senator claimed "a combination of protest and hope."

State Dems Defeat Resolution Calling for Draft Evader Amnesty

NEW YORK (UPI)—The state Democratic Committee defeated a resolution calling for amnesty for draft evaders Tuesday but adopted a platform urging the nation "to end immediately and completely every aspect of our Vietnam involvement."

The Vietnam statement was part of a 31-page proposed platform adopted by the 345-member committee at the Ramada Inn in Jamaica for presentation to the national platform committee in Miami Beach in July.

The platform calls for a $2.50 minimum hourly wage, assumption of all welfare costs by the federal government, use of federal highway funds for mass transit and a national health insurance program.

The only item in the proposal that drew any opposition was one calling for an end to discrimination against homosexuals and for repeal of laws against sex acts between consenting adults in private. A move to delete the item was defeated.

The draft platform, adopted by a voice vote, contains a paragraph stating that the nation "must accept back into its fold on an appropriate basis the thousands of young men who have refused to serve in (the war)." It did not go as far, however, as the resolution by Martin Brod of Manhattan which specifically called for pardon and amnesty for all those in prison or in exile for their opposition to the war.

Opponents of Brod's resolution, which was defeated after a heated debate, said it would be unfair to those who fought in the war or served prison terms because of their opposition. It was also contended that amnesty could not be granted while others were still being drafted into the armed services.

Nader said the fires start because of the design of the carburetor. He said the top cover of the carburetor is so insecurely fastened it easily works loose, permitting so much air to get into the fuel mixture that the engine backfires, blowing out the exhaust system.

A fuel line is near where the exhaust system blows out, and the fire can result, Nader said. Nader charged GM was trying to conceal the problem from Vega owners by carrying out "an illegal silent recall campaign" through dealerships to repair the defect—a charge GM said it "categorically denies."

Nader also charged the NHTSA with "dragging its feet" in investigations of engine fires in some 1965-67 GM cars and 1969-71 Ford LTDs.

GM said preparations for the recall were under way before it learned of Nader's letter. The Vegas are being recalled at company expense and make up about 40 per cent of the 1972 model year production, GM said.

In a statement issued in Detroit late Tuesday, GM said the defect had been found only in cars with the optional 90-horsepower engine. GM said it had developed a method to correct the problem.

Required parts for the recall are scheduled to be in the hands of dealers during the latter part of the month, GM said. The automaker's announcement coincided with release in Washington of Nader's letter to the National Highway Traffic Safety Association detailing the charges. Nader said they were based on "numerous" reports he has received of fires in Vegas.

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors is recalling approximately 130,000 1972-model Chevrolet Vegas to correct a carburetor defect which consumer advocate Ralph Nader charges could cause the subcompact car to burst into flames.

Massive Recycling Drive This Weekend in County

KINGSTON This weekend's county-wide recycling drive has been expanded to include sub-depots in six Ulster County communities, in addition to the major collection points in Kingston, Woodstock, Saugerties and Accord.

Three separate locations have been established for the Town of Olive: the Shokan Post Office, the Olive Bridge Fire House and the Ontario Central School in Boiceville. Those three sites will be manned on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for the collection of newspapers and magazines only. Specially marked drums will be set up at a number of locations throughout the town.

Materials for aluminum and glass recycling will be accepted at the Esopus Community Center, the Grand Union parking lot in Port Ewen and the Sacret Heart Church in Esopus. Both locations will be open Saturday only from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for glass, paper and aluminum. The two sites will be sponsored by the Esopus Environmental Conservation Commission.

The West Hurley Methodist Church will staff a depot at its site on Route 28 on Saturday from 1:30 p.m. and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Glass, paper and aluminum will be accepted.

A recycling depot for glass only will be established at the Modena Town Shed on Route 44 Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Trucks will be provided by the Town of Plattekill.

The Hurley Lions Club and Boy Scout volunteers will sponsor a recycling depot at the Hurley Firehouse on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for newspapers only.

Newspapers and magazines should be bundled separately in packages not exceeding 25 pounds. Glass bottles and jars should be cleaned, and all metal rings removed. Labels do not have to be removed. Only all aluminum cans (those without seams) will be accepted. Aluminum pie plates and TV dinner trays will also be accepted.

Scouts to Aid in Saugerties

SAUGERTIES It is suggested that glassware be nested and aluminum cans be crushed to help save space. Paper labels may be left on, but all metal should be removed from glass bottles. Glassware should be rinsed out, and separated by color.

Members of Explorer Post 57 will be manning the truck to help load the bundles of papers and magazines left at the trailer beside the Victory Market, Saugerties, Market Street, Friday, April 7, or Saturday, Sunday, or early Monday morning. Anyone having more papers than he can carry in his car may contact Peter Saathmann or David Bright, Explorer advisors, before Thursday for a special pickup Saturday or Sunday.

An alternated drop-off point for papers Saturday or Sunday will be the parking lot of the Saugerties Grand Union, on Simmons Plaza, Saugerties, Market Street.

Rosendale Schedule Listed

ROSENDALE The Citizens Environmental Committee of Rosendale in cooperation with the Town of Rosendale will begin a year-round recycling project.

Starting April 8 and 22, a town truck will be at the Rosendale Food Center from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. every second and fourth Saturday of the month to collect newspapers, magazines and aluminum cans. It is requested that bundles be less than 25 pounds and that magazines and newspapers be kept separate. It is expected that glass will be collected in the near future.

There will be an open public meeting 7:30 p.m. April 11 at the Rosendale Grange Hall, Main Street, in the village. Sponsored by the Citizens Environmental Committee, the meeting is for the purpose of gathering support and plans for Earth Weekend April 21 through 23. The committee is seeking to develop neighborhood groups for education and organization in a complete recycling program.

During Earth Weekend there will be a film, 1985, to be shown at the Rosendale Theater 2 p.m. Saturday, April 22.

$10,000 Is Campaign Goal

Kingston Library Drive in Third Week

KINGSTON The Kingston Area Library has entered the third week of its $10,000 fund raising campaign in the hopes of obtaining enough money to maintain existing services.

The fund drive began March 15 and will be concluded on April 15. According to Len Cane, public relations chairman for the fund drive and a member of the library's Board of Trustees, "We need the money to make up the difference between what has been allocated and what we know our expenses will be."

The library this year is operating on a budget of $82,000, half that amount came in the form of aid from the City of Kingston. Another $16,000 was allotted by the Kingston City Schools Consolidated for the services the library extends to the school district. The remaining $25,000 is raised through Association Memberships, services, gifts and penalties.

"We're operating on a bare bones budget now," said Cane. "The library has gone as far as it can go with belt tightening. It's time we decided just what kind of a library we're going to have. Unless we get the money, we're just not going to make it."

In addition to a number of vital services, the library's hours will likely be curtailed if the fund drive falls short of its $10,000 goal.

To date, about $1,000 has been raised. Fund drive volunteers hope to contact as many people and businesses as possible before the April 15 deadline. "But it's impossible to contact everyone," said Cane. "We may be able to contact only 40 percent of the people in the area. We hope the rest will come forward voluntarily."

The Library serves the area covered by the Kingston school district although anyone from any part of the country can utilize its facilities. There are presently some 9,300 library card holders and 900 association members.

The Association Library concept, according to Mrs. Caroline Matzen, the head librarian, began in the 19th century but is today evident in only a few locations. An association library is governed by the dues paying association members and must depend on the generosity of area municipalities, schools or patrons for sustaining funds. Most libraries in the United States today are public libraries, governed by a municipality or school district. Membership in the Kingston Area Library Association ranges from $3 to $100 or more per year. There is no charge for a library card.

The Kingston Area Library, however, operates considerably below the state average of per capita support, according to Cane. The state average is $6 per person; the average for Kingston is $1.30.

This is a major reason why the additional $10,000 is needed this year. The money will be used to purchase needed books and pamphlets; to insure that the library remains open at its present rate of 63 hours a week; and to maintain vital services. The library boasts a wide range of services to the public. It has over 30,000 books and pamphlets available for three-week loan; phonograph records and sheet music; a reference collection of 2,000 books, as well as back issues of magazines and microfilm copies of early newspapers. It sponsors story hours and special programs for children; a free film order program for organizations; and a framed art prints loan program. The library's services also include a local history collection and rare books room;

An important, and popular, part of the library's services is the Children's Library, which is open from 1:30 p.m. six days a week. It caters exclusively to pre-school and elementary school children and stocks thousands of books and learning materials for pre-teenagers. About 1,800 youngsters are members of the Children's Library. Mrs. Mabel Markle is the librarian.

Chairman of the fund drive is Chester A. Baltz, a nine year member of the Board of Trustees and a past president. Committee heads include: Mrs. Fritz Davis, treasurer; William Stall, financial institutions; Donald Sweeney, education; Harold Pinckney, government; Michael Dvorocik, industry; Ruth Poley, neighborhood; Emily Johnson, organizations; Marshall Lipton, business; Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn, service clubs and Len Cane, public relations. The Kingston Key Club is also assisting in the fund drive.

Special Hours on Thursday

The Kingston Area Library has announced special hours for Thursday, April 6.

On that day the library will be closed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to allow the staff to work on shelves and take a partial inventory. The process usually takes place during a slow period in library operations, such as during a vacation, but a public library has no real slow season at a stretch.

The library will reopen for regular service from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on April 6.

is successful, the process may be repeated from time to time, rather than shutting down the library for one or two weeks.

The library will reopen for regular service from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on April 6.

Proctor & Gamble Stuck With NTA

Jack Anderson Says

WASHINGTON — Proctor & Gamble, the soap makers, have millions worth of nitrotriacetic acid on their hands. This is the stuff — popularly known as NTA — which was supposed to replace phosphates in detergents until the Surgeon General discovered NTA might be even more harmful to health.

The soap firm's chief influence peddler, Bryce Harlow, has been working quietly to remove the medical curse from NTA. After Richard Nixon moved into the White House, Harlow put away the soft soap to sell the Republican legislative program on Capitol Hill. But he's back now at Proctor & Gamble trying to unload all that NTA.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department, obligingly has appointed an academic panel to review the risk of flushing NTA into the nation's sewage systems. Here's the inside story:

Proctor & Gamble, like most other detergent manufacturers, is aware that phosphates are one of the more insidious by-products of our spic-and-span culture. Dumped into rivers, lakes and streams, phosphates are a favorite food of algae. In the process, the algae consume the oxygen in the waterways.

Tattletale Gray Streams
Like man, waterways need oxygen to survive. Without it, they stagnate and die. Government scientists argued that the tattletale gray collar was less serious than atrophy of the streams. Between 50 and 75 per cent of the phosphates in our waters come from detergents.

Harlow was still in the White House when he got wind that the government was about to crack down on the use of phosphates in laundry cleaners. He passed the word, say insiders, to his former bosses at Proctor & Gamble.

The company had been experimenting with NTA which, like phosphates, bulls dirt out of laundry much like a magnet picks up iron filings.

The substitution of chemicals wasn't an easy matter for the soap suds king, whose formulas can't be changed without enormous cost. NTA also has an affinity for metals and, therefore, must be made with extreme care.

Special machinery had to be constructed and precautions had to be taken to avoid spillage. For NTA has a corrosive effect on metal and concrete alike.

But it does get clothes clean. There would be no need to tell housewives about the impending damage to their washing machines, basement floors and drain pipes.

Hocus pocus is the secret of the soap business. For most of this century, housewives have been hoodwinked into believing that suds have something to do with cleaning power. They don't. Chemicals that make soap bubbles are added as a sales gimmick.

Rather than undertake the production of NTA itself, Proctor & Gamble made a deal with Monsanto Chemical. It was a big deal. Industry sources place the figure as high as $100 million.

Phosphates were about to be phased out when scientists began reporting disturbing characteristics about NTA. Its affinity for metals has the effect of bonding together heavy metals in water.

NTA and Cancer

Shortly before Christmas, 1970, Surgeon General Jesse Steinfeld and Environmental czar William Ruckelshaus politely asked the soap makers to keep NTA out of their detergents. From a growing mass of research data, government scientist had concluded that NTA could cause cancer and birth defects.

The suds men grudgingly agreed to keep using phosphates. It was a costly decision. The Proctor and Gamble contract with Monsanto had stiff penalty clauses. The soap makers were compelled to pay for NTA they couldn't use.

Bryce Harlow, who had agreed to become Republican National chairman, was summoned back to the mother ship. With Proctor & Gamble in serious trouble, partly as a result of Harlow's inside advice, company officials thought he would be more valuable working for them full time.

We have obtained secret minutes, which show that Harlow pulled strings inside the White House to get relief for his company. The minutes mention the names of presidential aides Charles Colson, James Whitaker and Peter Flanagan, who couldn't be reached for comment over the Easter holiday.

We are convinced from our investigation, however, that no pressure was put on HEW's Assistant Secretary, Dr. Merlin DuVal, who formed an academic panel to review the research on NTA. Their conclusions are expected within a month.

Meanwhile, we have seen confidential research prepared for Proctor & Gamble on the NTA menace. An in-house study, prepared by three of the company's own scientists, warns cautiously: "An increased level of zinc was found in the bones" of test animals that had received small doses of NTA.

Arthur D. Little, Inc., the respected research firm, also was commissioned to do a study for the soap company. The hush-hush study, dated September 13, 1971, concluded there was a "need for a large study to provide more definitive information" about the NTA menace.

"Although it is not at all certain that the use of NTA will increase the average intake of toxic trace materials," warned the study, "it would clearly be desirable to conduct long-term studies in this area."

This, of course, would leave Proctor & Gamble still up to its full-load mark in NTA.

Planned U.S. Growth

This century has seen the growth of metropolitan centers which sucked migrants from the farms and towns into central city slums and ghettos. The next century can be less congested, can distribute the population on a more healthful and inspiring pattern, if we emphasize alternate growth centers, and channel growth to cities of 25,000 to 350,000 with growing job opportunities and the capacity thus to absorb new population.

The Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, a Presidential study group, called for such alternate growth centers as part of a dual strategy to meet the gathering loneliness of small-town main streets and the noisy congestion of ballooning suburbs. They are the two ends of the migration trail. The movement from one to the other created the metropolitan centers that threaten to engulf the country in pollution, crowding and other environmental difficulties.

In two earlier reports, the 24 private and public members of the commission, under the chairmanship of John D. Rockefeller 3rd, called on the nation to protect the future quality of life by stabilizing the growth of the population. The latest, final report argues that the distribution of the population is just as important.

As old farm, coal and railroad towns are emptied, the aim is to ease their decline rather than to reverse it. Alternate growth centers plus intensive relocation counseling and assistance are the dual programs the commission offers. Focusing on these programs will stem the trend to double the territory of urban regions by 1980, so that the land we occupy by 2,000 will not be badly settled.

Education, health, culture, and other programs for rural communities will be important for people left behind and also improve the potential of the out-migrants. Federal national population distribution guidelines, steps to open up the suburbs to minority groups, low-income housing, and tax aid complete the recommendations.

We can agree with all this and yet suggest more effort for the 5,000 to 25,000 cities and towns. There the real start has been made for future growth, where all the facilities exist for rapid expansion and where manpower can be put to work instead of discouraged into leaving for bigger cities.

Kindness in Style

A hot-tempered woman driver in White Plains had a good idea the other day.

Disturbed by her shouting at another driver who had cut her off, the woman turned philosopher. She wondered why people couldn't be kind toward each other instead of displaying anger. As she drove down the road, she noticed a well-dressed man changing a flat tire for two women.

At that point, her idea took shape—a Kindness Week in Westchester. When she initially broached the plan at a party, her friends ridiculed her. But then the person who had voiced the strongest criticism sent her a $10 bill "to get things going." That convinced her.

She enlisted the support of newspapers. She and other volunteers wrote letters to hundreds of public officials, urging "small acts of courtesy, friendliness and patience." Donations were used to print bumper stickers. Other donations went for Easter Seals.

The results were amazing. Throughout Westchester County, there was an influx of visitors to old-age institutions. Strangers stopped to drop off gifts at children's homes. Teachers digressed from standard curriculum to inject events of interest in the week's programs. Residents became more conscious of volunteer blood donations. Courtesy was emphasized on telephone calls. The newspapers started to publish outstanding daily acts of kindness.

All of a sudden the people of Westchester County had made a startling discovery: It's just as easy and much more fun to be kind as to be rude. (And it must be less taxing on the blood pressure, too.)

There's no guarantee that the benign warmth and amiability will become permanent but it's a start. Some grouches might even get to like it.

A Darwinian Choice

WASHINGTON — Brace yourself. Be prepared for the knowledge that "sand is running in the glass and the hour is growing late."

A "rapidly worsening snarl of problems" has created "flagging public faith in our ability to order our national affairs effectively." If you need a "glaring case in point," look at the "unrealistic, artificial and harmful distinction between urban and rural communities."

Mind you, "hard evidence of this danger abounds — dismal statistics about the low effectiveness of Federal spending, case upon case of national problems stubbornly resisting national programs." Unless you're scurrying to a cold tub or warm Bourbon, consider that "this Republic, soon to begin its third century, will surely grow old unless we take wise and decisive action to keep it young. Adapt or die" — the Darwinian choice is ours to make.

All that Darwinian purple sand flows from the pen of President Richard Nixon, according to the White House. The need to "adapt or die" focuses on something called Executive reorganization, the President's plan to reshuffle Cabinet portfolios.

Reducing all the Cabinet agencies down to four supersized agencies will be, the President's message said last week, "the most comprehensive and carefully planned such reorganization since the executive was first constituted in George Washington's Administration 183 years ago."

Coupled with revenue-sharing, the President's plan used to be known around the White House as "the New American Revolution" washing away the accomplishments of Washington, Adams and Jefferson with high-octane Nixon Administration thinking.

But the metaphor was obviously too tame, too timid for the President's taste. The scheme goes beyond politics to the very survival of the choice, no less.

The President's plan is not taken quite so seriously in Congress. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., asks Administration witnesses just what the goals of America should be, regarding machinery lightly. "What are we organizing for?" asks Ribicoff.

Even for a Darwinian-minded administration, the question is apparently to metaphysical.

If we are all descended from apes, only the fittest survive and that is a lesson of Federal bureaucracy. The President's redundant message was unloaded at the White House on a quiet Wednesday and vanished from sight.

But it gave employment to Darwin's descendants: the fellow who bows his head in the Senate and House delivering a message from the President; the mimeograph machine operators; all those speechwriters who had to look up; Director George Shultz, who devoted 25 minutes of his time to brief reporters; Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler who delivered the flash that "the President urges all those concerned with the cause of executive reorganization to redouble their efforts."

Perhaps this is what the President had in mind when he talked of the "dismal statistics about the low effectiveness of Federal spending."

Some sense of diminishing returns, too, applies to this activity. If this issue deserves such dire prose, what about really big items, like busing?

Someday perhaps, in the Darwinian progress of democracy, an American politician will offer citizens this choice — (a) adapt, (b) die, (c) none of the above. In the meantime, we may return to sleepy tranquil thought, like a new American Revolution.

The Siege of Hooverville

This was a hot dawn. The sun was a red unblinking ball over the lush hills of Maryland. It seemed to stand still, heating the beautiful government buildings of Washington, hard-boiling the egg on the top of the capitol, steaming the mud in the lower Anacostia Flats so that a veil hung head high over the peach crates and creosoted boards the veterans called Hooverville.

Nineteen thirty-two was a good year for the wine of despair. The big banks were closing. Wall Street was so low that suicidal brokers could not afford guns — they jumped from buildings. People by the hundreds of thousands were on the roads, walking to God-knows-where. Workers in steel mills slept in cold coke ovens. A good house could be bought for the taxes owed.

The United States government had promised a bonus to veterans of World War I to be paid in 1945. The vets wanted it now. Fifteen thousand of them marched to Washington. "Who are you?" policemen asked. "We are the 'Bonus Army.' The government has the money. We want it now."

They nailed their crates and boards together on the mud at Anacostia and waited. They were not revolutionaries. They mounted no attacks, fired no shots. They waited as all Americans waited, praying that God or Herbert Hoover would do something. Both, it seems, were busy.

Congressman Wright Patman had a bill before the House to pay the bonus as a transfusion to the economy. It was voted down. The President said that there was nothing fundamentally wrong with America. He was right. The nation was sound, but big business and little business had become hysterical. Men in rags stood on street corners selling two-cent apples for five cents.

A squad of Chief of Police Glassford's men wandered through Hooverville. They were well nourished and they had clubs and guns. The veterans pleaded that they had fought World War I; they had saved the world for democracy. Anybody want to buy a medal? The cops cracked a few heads.

Herbert Clark Hoover, who had been as patient with the bonus army as the vets had been with him, said that something had to be done. The 15,000 men, women and children must be moved out. They were a source of "embarrassment" to the United States. He had no executive power to feed them, nor to pay the promised bonus.

The hot sun lifted off the hills and watched the action. The solution was a pitiable as the dilemma. Four troops of cavalry, armed with sabers, assembled near Lafayette Park. Four companies of infantry were behind them. There was a machine gun squadron, and six Whippet tanks.

The general acted as though he was about to storm a fortress. He was Douglas MacArthur, Chief of Staff, U.S. Army. When everything was ready, he ordered his aide, Major Dwight Eisenhower, to hold the men "at ease." MacArthur sent an orderly back to Fort Myer for a fresh "unsweated tunic whippoor breeches, and his sharpshooter's medal."

Major Eisenhower passed the word. He told Captain George S. Patton, Jr. to permit his men to smoke. MacArthur got a fresh uniform. He ordered his staff to clean out a mob at Anacostia Flats: the mob was planning to seize control of the government of the United States.

It was hot when that march started, 40 years ago. But the men looked soldierly, marching down Pennsylvania Avenue behind MacArthur on his prancing horse. Young soldiers were going to fight old soldiers. The attack did not start until 4:45 p. m. By then, the sun was looking away.

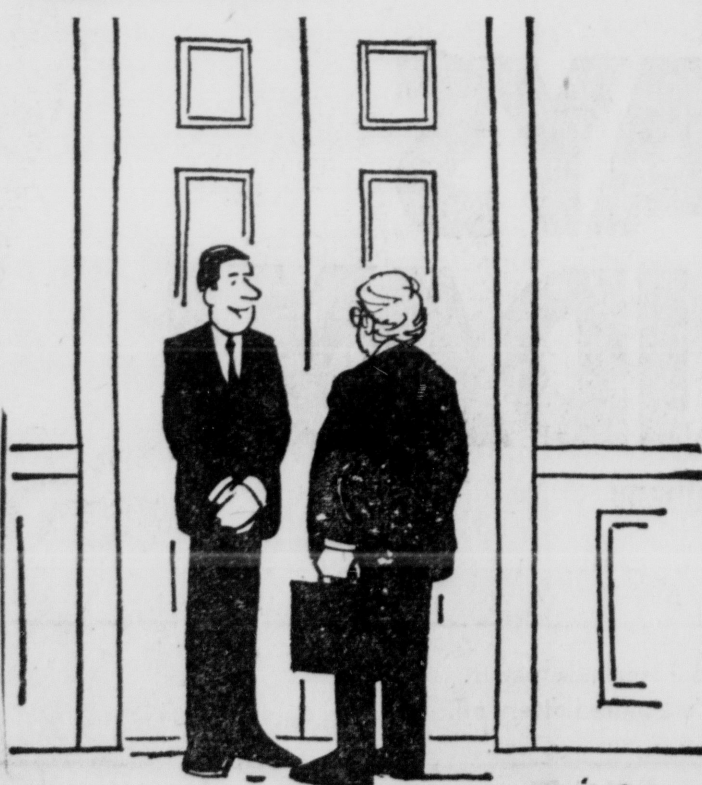

The officers planned the battle well. The exhausted bonus marchers fled, weeping. Was it tear gas — or the memories of Chateau Thierry, Cantigny, maybe St. Mihiel? They ran. The tanks crushed their peach crates. The effluent officers ordered the ruins burned. By 7:15 p. m., Patton and Eisenhower reported to MacArthur that the "battle" was over.

It was done quickly and efficiently. The bonus marchers tried to flee across the Anacostia Bridge into Maryland, a struggling ragged mass of refugees. But Maryland State Troopers were waiting. They didn't want to shelter beggars. The order went out: "Let them through if they promise to move through Maryland to another state." The old soldiers promised.

The casualties were small. Two vets shot to death, an 11-week-old baby dying; a boy, 8, blind in one eye; a veteran's ear cut off by a cavalry saber; a thousand people nauseated by tear gas. That was 40 years ago. Looking at the blackened timbers in the morning, some nut began to sing: "America, the Beautiful..."

Open Letter to Vern May

Editor, The Freeman:
Thanks for another town meeting. We may as well be grateful for our town board. . . it's the only one we have. But we went to town hall with hope and came away with disappointment and with frustration, and we have had that feeling with you before.

We wish we could have come away with a more concrete indication that the Woodstock Town Board will take decisive, interim action on some of the urgent needs and issues currently facing our town. We wish we could.

But, if this meeting was an indicator, it seems that any response the board may make to our concerns may come too late to have substantial effect on the Town House, the Longyear Building or Big Deep issues.

Among interim actions we suggest are:

1. A moratorium on building permits until Woodstock has a building code.
2. Restriction of commercial construction until full consideration of the impact of such construction is given by the Town Board.
3. Action to prevent the precipitous demolition of historical structures and misuse of town property.

There is much the Town Board can do within its legislative function without jeopardizing its executive partiality. There is too much at stake for the Board to refuse priority status to these items. Previous town boards have taken the attitude that "There was nothing we could do about it" . . . always after the fact.

Please, Vern, see that you and your colleagues prevent this attitude from prevailing. We all need your responsiveness and your responsibility.

Most sincerely,

Cancer Funds

Editor, The Freeman:
The Cancer Act of 1972 was passed unanimously by the House and Senate and was supported by President Nixon. It authorized $530 million for the cancer program for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1972. The Office of Management and Budget is trying to reduce these funds by $100 million. President Nixon has authority over the Office of Management and Budget. Concerned citizens should write a letter to the full President requesting the full $530 million appropriation be authorized for the cancer program. The conquest of cancer may depend on your letter.

Forced Busing

Editor, The Freeman:
I am a mother from Chesterfield County, Va. and our area is under court order to merge our schools with those of Richmond, Va. The Judge has further ordered that the title to all school property must be surrendered by the locally elected governing bodies to the newly created board which will be responsible to no one but Judge Merhige.

Now, President Nixon has made his "statement on busing." We feel that his proposals will not remedy the situation because:

1. The moratorium will not put an end to "busing" already in effect.
2. This legislation will be subject to review by the Supreme Court and in all probability will be deemed unconstitutional.

The electorate of this country needs to be aware of these facts and the position of the candidates on this issue.

Your help will be greatly appreciated.

Thanking you,
Mrs. GLADYS THOMAS

LAISSEZ-FAIRE

Editor, The Freeman:
In a March 5 Letter to the Editor, Nathan Pressman wrote that it was "beyond" him why I, in turn, had said in another Letter that "Capitalism is not dying. It has never been fully tried!" Perhaps, I did not make exactly clear what capitalism really is. What it definitely is NOT is the current "mixed economy" of parts of capitalism, an parts of socialism. The United States has NEVER, I repeat, NEVER had full laissez faire capitalism where the only proper function of a government is protection of its citizens against the initiation of force.

In laissez-faire capitalism, people would exchange goods and services, without regulation, solely on the basis of value for value. It recognizes charity and communal enterprises as voluntary versions of this same ethic." (A quote from Karl Hess's article, "The Death of Politics"). Actually, most of today's "big businessmen" are not in favor of laissez-faire capitalism at all. It is only by lobbying and buying favors from the government that they are able to have laws passed which discourage, if not outright eliminate, competitors.

As just one example of how laissez-faire capitalism could solve present problems, I'd like to cite the recent snow mobile controversy in Woodstock, as well as in other parts of the country. Snowmobile owners, claiming the right to use public roads, annoy and anger homeowners, claiming the right to peace and privacy on their own property, living on these public roads. With the public road system, they are both right! It is the concept of "public" roads that is at fault. Owned in theory by everyone, the roads are, in effect, owned by no one. People living in houses on the public roads have no control over the roads. But if the roads were privately owned, the owner could set clear, definite standards for use of the road. Homeowners would know before they bought their house what these standards were. If they were set down in writing in a contract, and the roadowner violated the contract, the homeowners could bring him to court. Perhaps, no roadowner would find it to be profitable to allow snowmobiles on their roads because of the noise factor. But someone ELSE, seeing all the disgruntled snowmobile owners could make a profit by building snowmobile trails that had no houses nearby. It is only the much maligned "profit motive" that makes such innovation possible.

Alcohol Abuse

Editor, The Freeman:
A few days ago a Washington D. C., correspondent reported that our ambassador to France, Arthur K. Watson, was exceedingly rude to the plane crew on a flight from London to New York. Mr. Watson's behavior was attributed to having "worked an entire night without sleep, two ineffective sleeping tablets and several drinks."

In our high school, students are taught the consequences of drug misuse, especially the "potentiation" theory. Alcohol and habituates when mixed potentiate one another to the extent this reaction might cause death. We have had in the past few years numerous examples of people who died from this potentiation effect i.e. Jimmy Hendrix, Dorothy Killgallen and a boy from our own community.

Yet, here we have a United States diplomat, whom you would assume to be sensible, intellectual and above all, representative of the American people, misusing drugs.

Needless to say, Mr. Watson's conduct provoked Wayne Hayes (D-Ohio), chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee to investigate Mr. Watson's behavior. Arthur K. Watson was told that his behavior was unacceptable and would not be tolerated. (But was given a "second chance.")

It seems to me that Mr. Hayes has missed the opportunity to reinforce what President Nixon has called "public enemy number one," and what every school in the country is trying desperately to teach. Namely drug misuse and abuse. It is becoming increasingly difficult for me to understand how communities, schools and individuals are supposed to cope with drug misuse and abuse when our government officials openly and admittedly misuse and abuse drugs with the only consequence being the possibility of a verbal reprimand.

We have been told that drug abuse and misuse is at epidemic proportions in this country and the government is doing all it can to curb the problem. Yet in reality, when they were faced with a situation involving drug misuse by one of their own peers, the drug abuse question never came up. Is it any wonder many young people find anti-drug prevention programs distasteful and hypocritical.

Trailways Management Issues Statement

KINGSTON—Management officials at Adirondack Trailways today issued "an open letter to the public" concerning the company's position on a strike against it by Local 1582 of the United Transportation Union.

The statement noted that the strike, which began Sunday morning by some 109 local drivers and maintenance personnel, was the first in the 45-year history of the company.

"Adirondack is proud of its employees," the statement said. "Our drivers regularly win awards and national recognition for their outstanding safety records. Our maintenance personnel keep our fleet among the most modern and reliable on the road. Our ticket personnel are known for their courteous and efficient service. As a group, the achievements of our personnel are second to none."

The company stated, however, that it did not feel that it was of the opinion that the negotiating team for the union "did fully understand" the company's offer.

The company said it offered the drivers a 6.2 per cent increase for each of the next three years but that "the union has not moved off its original proposal presented over two months ago demanding increases in excess of 30 per cent a year."

The company also noted that the average Adirondack driver earns in excess of $10,000 a year and senior drivers earn in excess of $15,000.

"The company cannot meet all the demands of the bargaining committee of UTU Local 1582 and still continue to provide the public with the high quality and frequent service to which it has become accustomed," the statement said. "The company has not refused to consider any single union demand. However, when the total cost of these demands are packaged, the union's position becomes unrealistic and prohibitive," the statement concluded.

The strike has affected 50 communities from New York City to Massena. In the Hudson Valley, Fine Hill Trailways, not affected by the strike, is running special buses daily from Stony Hollow to New York City at 7:30 a.m. and 12:05 p.m. Arrow Bus Lines runs four buses from Kingston to New Paltz daily, leaving Kingston at 7:45 a.m., 11 a.m., 3:10 p.m. and 5:10 p.m.

He was one of two surviving members of the Escadrille, an elite squadron of 38 Americans who flew with the French before the entry of the U.S. into the war.

For his heroism, Jones was awarded the coveted Croix de Guerre, Legion of Honor and Medaille des Volontaires Americains. When the Escadrille disbanded in 1918, Jones transferred to the U.S. Army's 103rd Aero Squadron and later returned to the states as a combat instructor.

Lafayette Escadrille Survivor Dies Following Major Surgery

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Henry Sweet Jones, Lafayette Escadrille survivor and former manager of the F. W. Woolworth store in Kingston, died in Clearwater Fla., recently.

Jones, 79, was a flying ace with the French Army's famed Lafayette Escadrille in World War I, and engaged in several duels with German fliers led by the famed "Red Baron" Von Richthofen.

Nine Die In Blaze

ROSECRANS, Wis. (UPI)—A blaze started in a kitchen at the Fair Hills Nursing Home and spread rapidly through the building Tuesday night. Before the fire building, the bodies were found throughout the structure.

Authorities said one person escaped uninjured from the flames and another was apparently in Green Bay when the fire started.

Two of the surviving residents were hospitalized in Manitowoc, about 20 miles away. The extent of their injuries was not known.

A spokesman for the Manitowoc County Sheriff's Department said it was believed the

Strikes Stores
NEW YORK (AP) — Regular sales, clerical and stock room employees today struck six Macy's department stores in the metropolitan area.

The strike call was issued Tuesday by the executive board of Local 1-S of the AFL-CIO Retail, Wholesale and Department Store union, which represents 8,000 Macy's employees in six stores.

Sam Kovenetsky, Local 1-S president, said pickets were surrounding the stores where the union is represented, and also the seven where it is not.

'French Connection' Cop...
Dismissal Is Overturned

NEW YORK (AP) — The dismissal from the Police Department of Eddie Egan, whose exploits as a narcotics detective were dramatized in the film "The French Connection," was overturned today in Manhattan Supreme Court.

As a result of the ruling by Justice George Starke, Egan, 42, who had filed for retirement prior to dismissal, is now eligible to collect a lifetime pension.

Egan's attorney, Frank Miller, had contended in a suit before Justice Starke, that the dismissal was "disproportionate" to the offenses of which a departmental trial found Egan guilty.

Charges were brought against Egan in the summer of 1971, shortly after his involvement with the film.

The offenses, which Justice Starke described as primarily violations of reporting and property storage procedures, allegedly occurred in 1968 and 1969.

At the end of the trial on Nov. 29, 1971, the hearing officer recommended that Egan be fined 40 days' pay, but Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy overruled the hearing officer's recommendation and ordered Egan's dismissal.

According to Starke, the dismissal became effective "about seven hours prior to the time" of Egan's retirement. Starke reasoned in his decision that, even if Egan were guilty of the charges, the punishment did not fit the offense.

There was testimony at the departmental trial that Egan, during his 15 years as a police officer, had never been subject to other disciplinary proceedings.

"Taking all these factors into account and without condoning Egan's administrative derelictions, this court is satisfied that dismissal was a punishment so disproportionate to the offense as to be shocking to one's sense of fairness," Starke declared.

The Police Department had argued that Egan had broken his continuity of employment when he obtained a leave of absence without making a formal application for the leave.

Starke found that Egan had received permission from the office of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Acting Police Commissioner William T. Smith had ordered Egan's dismissal.

Support Sought for County Pageant

SAUGERTIES

Letters have gone out to Ulster County business and industrial firms asking them to support the Miss Ulster County Scholarship Pageant by placing advertisements in the program for the event, which will be held Saturday, April 22, in the Saugerties High School auditorium.

The scholarship fund receives a big boost from support of the pageant's souvenir journal, according to William E. Warner Jr., the pageant's finance chairman.

In his letter to Ulster County businessmen, Warner says: "In order to offer this opportunity to as many young ladies as possible, the Saugerties Jaycees, holders of the Miss America franchise, need financial assistance in producing the pageant show and establishing the scholarship fund. The contestants who aspire to the title of Miss Ulster County of 1972 have one common goal, to complete their education. Please help us to help them achieve that goal."

In addition to the $650 first prize scholarship award, the girl chosen as Miss Ulster County will receive a trophy, bracelet, and a trip to the state pageant in July at Olean, where she will compete for the title of Miss New York State. The winner there represents the state in the Miss America

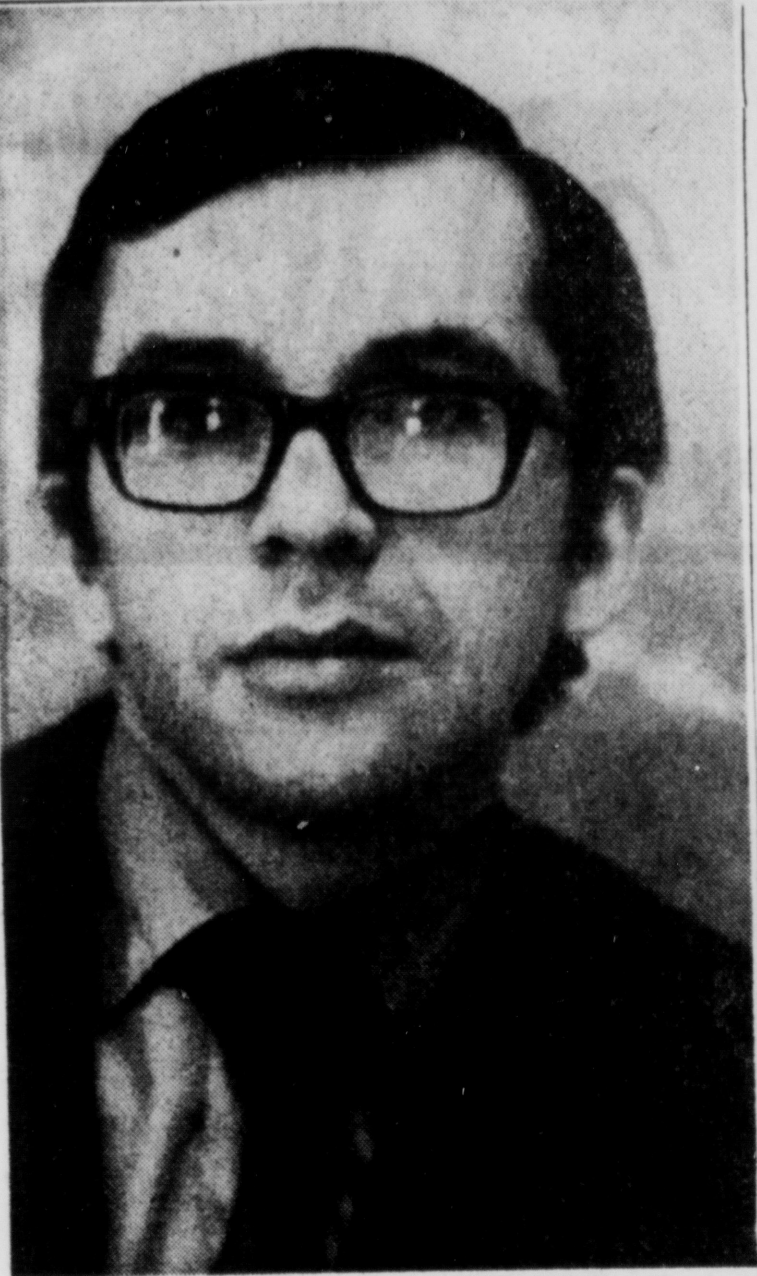

Pageant in Atlantic City in the fall.

Mrs. Lois Buchan of 5 Hemlock Court, Saugerties, is ticket chairman for the Miss Ulster County pageant. Ticket reservations also may be made in the following locations: Kingston Music Center, 658 Ulster Mall; Kerhonkson Tire Service, Foordmore Avenue, Kerhonkson. (Mrs. A. Feinberg); Mrs. Arthur Blauvelt, P.O. Box 158, Briggs Highway, Ellenville; Joseph's Beauty Salon, 257 Main Street, Saugerties and Mrs. Roland Berzal, Catskill.

Mrs. Ted Corea, 10 Morris Street, Saugerties, is entry chairman, and his information and application blanks for prospective contestants.

Mrs. Corea said two recent orientation sessions for contestants had resulted in seven applications. Ulster and Greene County girls between 18 and 28 are eligible, including girls from other places attending school in these counties.

VETERANS DAYS CHAIRMAN — C. Waring Blackburn Jr., of Catskill, has been appointed chairman of Veterans Assistance Days in Green County, sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Post Vietnam Planning Committee. Blackburn is the planning director with the Greene County Planning Department.

English Teachers To Meet at UCCC

Council Federal Grant

WOODSTOCK
Woodstock Narcotics Guidance Council recently learned that it received a federal grant under the "Help Communities Help Themselves Program" sponsored by the United States Office of Education.

Walter Van Wageningen, chairman of the Woodstock Council, stated that "under this program a five-member team will be trained at government expense for a two-week period beginning after May 1. This team will serve as a trained group of leaders in the community, who are capable of acting as catalysts, providing the expertise needed to plan, direct, and implement community-based drug prevention programs."

The team will consist of Van Wageningen, the Rev. Douglas Osgood, pastor of the Overlook Methodist Church, Charles Britting, guidance counselor at the Ontario High School, Michael Ward, coordinator of The Family, and Kayhon Mashayekhi, a student at the Ontario High School.

Van Wageningen expressed appreciation to Dr. Frank M. Marlow, a member of the Woodstock Narcotics Guidance Council, for preparing and submitting the successful proposal.

Youth Express Thanks

WOODSTOCK
Woodstock Youth Council Chairman Richard Mellert and the members of the council wish to thank Miss Stephanie Godwin for her donation to the Youth Council Building Fund. Miss Godwin, whose one man show was held at the Woodstock Artist's Association on March 11 and 12, donated the proceeds from one of the pieces displayed.

The Youth Council Building Fund has been in existence for five years with the goal of providing the youth of Woodstock their own "place." The donation by Miss Godwin assists in bringing the permanent center closer to reality.

Fresh Air Plans Made

SAUGERTIES Plans for the arrival of Fresh Air children in the Saugerties area this summer are being made with July 18 and Aug. 1 the dates busloads of underprivileged children from New York City will come into the Saugerties-Kingston area.

Many families who invited children into their homes last year are reportedly planning to do so again this year, according to Mrs. Pat Kramer.

But, she said, "we need more families." All that is necessary to qualify is a family atmosphere, a bed for the child to sleep in, "a pair of open arms."

Further information may be obtained from Mickey and Gail Goffredi and Dick and Pat Kramer.

Clinic Slated

SAUGERTIES A clinic for VEE (Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis) vaccinations will be held on April 8 at 2 p.m. across from Saugerties High School at Veterans Memorial Field. A fee will be charged because the program is not sponsored by the State. Only healthy, non-pregnant horses over six months of age may be brought to the clinic.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ted Layman, or Mrs. Stanley Olsen.

A certificate of vaccination will be required at most horse shows this summer and will be issued at the clinic. Children can become seriously ill from this virus, horses can die or be left useless, therefore the Ulster County 4-H Horse Leaders urge every horse owner to have their horses vaccinated.

Grand Union Project Construction Begins

RHINEBECK There has been some disagreement over the company's building an access lane off Route 9 to the Astor Flats property, but this matter, along with changed sewerage plans, have earned the Board of Appeals' approval.

Club Sets Scholarship

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON

The Bard College Women's Campus Club has announced that it will use the proceeds from the November, 1971 Handcraft Exposition and Sale to establish a scholarship fund in memory of Muriel DeGre, who died Feb. 18.

Mrs. DeGre, an active member of the club, was the originator of the annual craft show and her efforts, both practical and creative, gave it much of its initial impetus.

The Women's Club at Bard has each year given its profits from the sale to the college to be used for such purposes as curtains for the theatre, books, recording equipment, a slide projector, and sound equipment for the music department.

The members felt that this year it was appropriate, instead, to take the first step towards the establishment of an appropriate and lasting memorial to Mrs. DeGre.

There has been some disagreement over the company's building an access lane off Route 9 to the Astor Flats property, but this matter, along with changed sewerage plans, have earned the Board of Appeals' approval.

The company reportedly plans to have the 33,000 square foot store operating by the end of this summer. Plans include the approval of the Board of Appeals for another 18,000 square foot store on the property to be built at some time in the future.

And another effect of the year-old zoning law was seen as the result of a permit by the Board of Appeals allowing Rhinebeck Plumbing and Heating, of Mulberry Street in the village, to relocate at a new plant on the commercially designated area on Route 9G north of its intersection with Route 9.

This strip of Route 9G, heretofore undeveloped commercially except for a service station, has been bulldozed by landowners with signs erected proclaiming it is available for commercial building.

This area was designated highway business in the zoning law and in the previous comprehensive master plan for the town and, with other prospective highway business spots, appeared through the zoning, it appears as if the law's ideals will be realized.

Cub Packs Plan

KINGSTON—Cub Scout packs in this area will be doing their annual planning next month using an exciting list of suggested program themes, according to Nelson Barnett, Council Commissioner of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America. More than 54 Cub Scout packs in Ulster and Greene counties will be selecting monthly program themes for May 1972 through April 1973. The monthly theme has been the foundation of Cub Scout program planning for more than 30 years, Barnett said, with each theme designed to provide fun, variety, action, and purpose.

Barnett explained that each pack brings together its pack leaders and the Scouts who serve as den chiefs to determine the theme for each month, pack activities, and den, home, Webelos, and special pack projects.

The suggested monthly themes which are carefully researched, planned, and written to give a varied program for the next year are: May, Beautiful America; June, Backyard Adventure; July, Cub Scout Olympics; August, Cub Scout Astronauts; September, Cub Scout Citizens; October, Discovery of America; November, Things That Go; December, Follows, Helps, Gives; January, Music Makers; February, Famous Americans; March, Knights of the Tournament; and April, Fiesta.

Hyde Park Knights Group Initiates Dialysis Drive

HYDE PARK
Hyde Park Council 6111, Knights of Columbus, is initiating a drive to have the new addition being planned for St. Francis Hospital contain a Hemodialysis unit.

A release states, "There is a segment of the community that would like to have a hemodialysis unit included in this addition. In Dutchess County there are at present at least eight known persons receiving hemodialysis treatments."

The Council noted that contact had been made with personnel from Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown, learning that this hospital has nine persons receiving hemodialysis at its unit.

This Horton unit consists of three machines, and the hospital is in the process of obtaining its fourth. They are used in two shifts, six days a week. The cost of such treatments at Horton is $85 a shift.

In seeking similar treatment for Dutchess County residents at the Poughkeepsie hospital the Council stated, "We understand that one of the problems is the lack of a nephrologist. It is felt by persons in the medical field that if inquiries were made at medical schools one could be found for us."

The Council is soliciting signatures on a petition-like form to be presented to St. Francis.

Congestion Move Approved For Town of New Paltz Area

By WADE BURKHART

The Town of New Paltz has received state approval for a move designed to ease some of the congestion on Main Street, Poughkeepsie office, and with Sgt. Kurt Grimm, of the New York State Police, to review his request for the posting of signs directing traffic around New Paltz rather than through it.

Moriello said the state agreed to the plan, provided the town does the work, according to the state manual on sign erection, and that the town received county approval.

Moriello said he had contacted the county, but had not heard anything yet.

The plan would, through the use of signs at intersections, direct traffic to use North and South Putt Corners Roads, and Shiertown and Horsenden Roads to get around the town.

Traffic presently goes down Main Street, with some bad traffic jams resulting during peak traffic hours.

Using alternate routes, traffic will be able to go any direction but west without using Main Street.

Mid-Hudson Counties Plan Services

By TIM SCHUSTER

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON Five Mid-Hudson Valley counties will become involved in one corporate entity offering legal services to the indigent (impoverished) sometime in the near future, according to Dutchess County Legal Service attorney David Effron.

Speaking to The Freeman after addressing a Bard College Government Club group Tuesday evening, Effron said that Legal Services, in action in Dutchess County since 1967 to give the poor civil law aid, will expand to include the counties of Ulster, Orange, Sullivan and Putnam as well as Dutchess.

He said that Poughkeepsie attorney Noel Tepper has had conferences with leading attorneys of all counties over the past two years with this view in mind Dutchess is currently the only county of the five offering this type of legal aid.

And the headquarters for the Mid-Hudson Legal Services will be in Middletown. More information "should be forthcoming soon," he promised.

Effron explained the duties of the five-year-old service to the students and faculty present, noting that it is funded federally through the Office of Economic Opportunity and is concerned with civil cases.

Some examples of these are welfare problems, evictions, family problems, fraudulent sales, and wage garnishing. Under law, a person has no right to free legal advice in civil matters as he does in criminal matters.

Eligibility requirements in Dutchess County are a net income of $60 a week or less with allowances made for each additional member of the family, thus getting into the middle incomes in large families.

The public defenders office handles the indigent in criminal matters, as mandated by a 1963 Supreme Court ruling.

Effron said that there is a "suspicion of lawyers" by many of the poor black people because the lawyer has always been "the enemy" before.

And he stated that he did not think our society is geared to meet social needs, especially during this administration. He mentioned several influential politicians who have tried to cast the so-called "class section" cases in Supreme Court in disrepute.

Among them are Vice-President Agnew, involved in a Camden, N. J., case of low-income housing, and Governor Reagan, involved in a migrant worker displacement program action.

And Effron said that the funds have been kept negligible despite words of praise from high government officials for the national program.

He characterized the "class actions" as the wave of the future. These cases "make a federal case" out of seemingly inconsequential personal grievances, thus setting precedents and skipping the endless state courts. This method thus reflects on all persons with similar problems in the nation, making it unnecessary to process each case individually for Justice.

"The phrase law and order is fine," said Effron, except that the poor are too often not represented properly and thus do not get their just share of law and order.

Some of the typical welfare married. The courts require problems encountered in the proof of pregnancy in females younger than 16 before granting them permission for marriage. Poughkeepsie office are residency requirements (now declared unconstitutional); in many good reasons for getting a divorce, but getting pregnant, the "man in the house" rule which, in effect, forces the man out of the house; and arbitrary denial of custody cases ("difficult and welfare payments without a toughly fought"); child neglect and abuse cases; representation and abuse cases in family court; and

Many of the family problems of juveniles in family court; and encountered are divorce and paternity proceedings. Hundreds of Dutchess County separation proceedings. Effron has taken advantage explained that, until a few years residents have taken advantage of the Legal Services there and, ago, only the wealthy could afford a divorce in New York it is hoped by many interested for a divorce in New York State because of the stringent attorneys in other mid-Hudson Valley counties, this service will soon be available to give the will soon be available to give law requiring a male to be 21 "law and order" to all who years old and a female 18 to get need it.

Dutchess County DA Plans Intern Program

By TIM SCHUSTER

POUGHKEEPSIE District Attorney Albert M. Rosenblatt today said that his office will continue the student intern program based upon the great success of the project last summer.

Two law students and two college students were engaged by the District Attorney's office to handle consumer complaints, to assist in the other duties of the office, and to aid Assistant District Attorneys in criminal investigations.

Last summer's experience "persuaded me that the law school and college community can provide an enormously helpful body of students from which we may select several to assist in carrying out the public duties of this office," said Rosenblatt.

The program was made possible by reason of a federal grant to DA offices throughout the state. Rosenblatt is vice president of the New York State District Attorneys' Association and that organization was active in releasing federal funds for programs of this kind.

Last summer, the students worked for a period of ten or twelve weeks on a fulltime basis. "We found that there was more than enough work for four of them and this year we are going to hire as many as six," he said.

Thus far there has been a great interest shown and over 30 students have made application or expressed an interest in these jobs.

It was noted that the students filled a void by relieving Assistant District Attorneys of some of their duties and serving as the recipients of complaints that this office receives from all parts of the country.

The students handled dozens of these complaints and in most instances were able to adjust the matters amicably.

The matters included every conceivable dispute that might arise between a consumer and a seller. In large measure the students' role was that of a mediator or arbitrator who was able to settle matters to the satisfaction of both parties.

Rosenblatt stated that "students today, particularly those interested in the field of public law or political science, have an abundance of enthusiasm in projects of this kind. There is a need that students feel to engage in community service and this program provides such an outlet and, in addition, allows the District Attorney's office to be the beneficiary of the talents of these students."

Within the next two weeks, the office will announce the name of those students who will be hired for this summer.

NAPANOCH Though the state has settled with the Civil Service Employees Association, and the CSEA has ended its strike, it has not settled with Security Employees Council 82, AFL-CIO, and the strike deadline is midnight Friday.

Council 82 represents about 4,500 correction officers throughout the state, including about 190 of the approximately 200 guards at Eastern State Correctional Facility at Napanoch, and about 80 of the 100 guards at Wallkill Prison.

The union also represents about 3,500 security personnel at state hospitals, capital building police, conservation officers, forest rangers, and narcotics correction officers.

Negotiations are continuing this week, but if they are unsuccessful, the council's members begin their strike.

Jarome Patterson, superintendent of the Napanoch Prison, told The Freeman Tuesday that he was "the eternal optimist," and believed the negotiations would be successfully resolved before the strike deadline.

However, Patterson is enough of a realist to have "alternate plans" to follow if the strike should come off. He declined to say what the alternate plans were.

However, Thomas Mitchell, vice president of the Napanoch local, said the plans for last Friday, when an impending Council 82 strike was called off just before the deadline, were to bring in state troopers followed by National Guardsmen.

He also said it was possible for the 4 to 12 shift would not be allowed to go home, but would be ordered to continue working, and housed and fed at the prison.

Most people concerned with the negotiations are careful to call the impending strike a "job action," the current euphemism necessary, that he expected for state employees not coming from 70 to 80 per cent of the classification. A boost in classification means a larger paycheck. A decision is expected Friday before the strike deadline.

to work. Mitchell said the Napanoch job action would have pickets, and would "show that we mean business."

Special

He said, if the strike were necessary, that he expected for state employees not coming from 70 to 80 per cent of the classification. A boost in classification means a larger paycheck. A decision is expected Friday before the strike deadline.

James Jennings, an Albany-based spokesman for Council 82, said the council had obtained a hearing Tuesday before the State Division of Classification and Compensation. The guards want their jobs upgraded in the classification. A boost in classification means a larger paycheck. A decision is expected Friday before the strike deadline.

At Napanoch, the concerns of the men are salary, pension, and health insurance, in roughly that order.

Things are a little different at Wallkill, Albert Wright, of Wallkill, president of the Wallkill local, said his men were most concerned with the 20-year retirement provision. "Twenty years in this type of work is a long time," he said, noting that more and younger guards were coming down with ulcers and heart attacks from the job's "aggravations."

Wright said he expected to have "enough to bring it off" when and if the time came to walk off the job, but he declined to say what form the job action would take at Wallkill.

Wright said the issue of parity with New York City Correction officers was an important issue. Though a guard at Wallkill, he cited the situation at Napanoch where New York City prisoners are housed by arrangement with the state. He said Napanoch guards got from $2,500 to $4,000 less than New York City guards to watch the same people.

He said the state had not negotiated in good faith so far, and "We just can't hold still for this."

Every one interviewed by The Freeman felt sure the strike would come off at midnight Friday if the negotiations between the state and Council 82 were unsuccessful. "After all these years," said Wright, "It's just finally built up."

Police Review Set

ROSENDALE It was reported that the Village Board is now considering a plan whereby the village of Rosendale is expected to be among the matters discussed at tonight's Village Board meeting.

The object of intense controversy since late last year, the Village Police Department has reportedly been under fire in recent weeks from several quarters of the community. It was the object of a heated Village Board meeting in December when it was charged that it had overspent its budget by some $4,000 during the first six months of the fiscal year.

In March, shots were fired at Police Chief Walter Byer outside his home. The Village Board, at the time, charged that the shooting was the result of an intense anti-police campaign waged by some persons of the community.

Such patrols, if implemented, would be under the joint supervision of the Village Board and Sheriff William B. Martin. It is intended that the proposed program will be discussed at length at the Village Board meeting on Wednesday.

Mrs. DeStefano added that she would attend tonight's meeting to explain the program and to answer questions from the floor.

In other matters discussed at Monday's meeting, the following appointments were made: Paul Cahill, building inspector; John Walsh, water department engineer; Marie Lamb, water clerk; Norman Kellar, village attorney; Michael Cooper, acting police justice; William Ward, school crossing guard; Lee Vansligh, highway department and John Cutinello, sanitation department.

At Monday's reorganizational meeting of the Village Board, newly elected Democratic Trustee Barbara DeStefano Martin will attend tonight's meeting to explain the program and to answer questions from the floor.

In other matters discussed at Monday's meeting, the following appointments were made: Paul Cahill, building inspector; John Walsh, water department engineer; Marie Lamb, water clerk; Norman Kellar, village attorney; Michael Cooper, acting police justice; William Ward, school crossing guard; Lee Vansligh, highway department and John Cutinello, sanitation department.

St. Remy Vols Will Redesign Vets Monument

ST. REMY Gabriel Guido, president of the St. Remy Volunteer Fire Department, has announced plans to redesign and construct a new Veterans Memorial Monument in that fire district.

The previous Memorial Tablet that stood for several years on the old St. Remy School property was moved to the site of the St. Remy Fire Station where it was to be permanently re-set, however, during snow removal operations earlier this winter, the tablet was accidentally struck by a town snowplow and completely demolished.

President Guido, a mason by trade, has offered to design a new memorial which is to be structured of masonry and brick so as to be maintenance free and everlasting. Guido also said that permission has been granted to establish the new monument on the front property of the St. Remy Reformed Church.

A special feature of the new memorial will be the inclusion of all residents of the St. Remy Fire District, which is comprised of the St. Remy-Union Center areas, who served in the Armed Forces of the United States, both past and present.

To enable the fire department to make the list of names for this monument as complete as possible, it is requested that anyone having knowledge of such persons who served in the Armed Forces from the fire district, contact either President Guido or any member of the fire department. Since it is planned to dedicate the new monument on Memorial Day such names should be supplied no later than April 15, 1972.

The public is also invited to attend the ceremony to be conducted at the Memorial on Memorial Day at 9 a.m.

Can Husbands Forgive and Forget...?

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago, my husband (whom I'll call John) was caught "in the act" by the other woman's husband. (The husband brought the facts to me.) I was hurt and emotionally torn to pieces, but I loved John, so I said, "Maybe it was my fault. Let's forget it, and start over." In the meanwhile, the other woman's husband blew town and no one has seen him since. Not even their kids.

Last week my best girl friend (married), and a male coworker (also married), were found by my girl friend's husband in a warm embrace in a parked car. My girl friend netted a broken jaw and a divorce suit. Her coworker now won't even look her way.

Abby, what's with men anyway? Are understanding, compassion and forgiveness qualities that only women possess?

Do you know one man who would be willing to sit down with an erring wife, discuss the problem, forgive her and suggest that they start over? If you know such a man, please nominate him for sainthood.

CONVERTING TO WOMEN'S LIB
DEAR CONVERTING: I don't happen to know his name, rank and serial number, but I'm sure there's at least one such candidate.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in support of our country's USOs. I am a 23-year-old working girl who has been active in the USO for a number of years. One of our problems is finding other girls to attend the dances and other activities, such as skating, buffets, decorating, skiing, etc. One of the big reasons is their parents' attitude toward the USO. They seem to have the idea that it is an unfit and indecent place for their daughters; yet these girls are allowed to visit the local discotheques, fraternity parties and so forth.

The activities of the USOs I have attended are always chaperoned. When our local USO has a dance, it is over by 11 p.m. so the girls aren't out all night. Also no alcoholic beverages are ever allowed in the club. The girls must be between 18-25 years old, and must have three names for references, one of which should be a clergyman. The majority of girls already belonging to the club are looking for some good, clean fun and this is the place to find it. If a girl doesn't meet the standards, she is asked to leave. As for the men these daughters will meet, they are the same ones who left home as sons and brothers.

Maybe this letter won't help much, but it is a way of asking these parents to come in and see for themselves before they condemn the USO because of stories that have been passed along thru the years when somebody needed something to talk about.

A JUNIOR VOLUNTEER

DEAR VOLUNTEER: Thanks for a most illuminating letter. And since you did not mention that the USO is not a government funded project, the next time we are called upon to UNITED CRUSADE (or that one-big-community gift), we'll remember that the USO depends on that donation.

DEAR ABBY: So, for the past 10 years you have been advising those who could not dance or sing to learn how to play an instrument!

Perhaps that accounts for the fact that most of the pop music of the past decade sounds as tho the musicians had no sense of meter, and couldn't carry a tune.

For the next 10 years, how about advising those who can't sing or dance to try snapping their fingers? Or better yet, to imply listen! What the world needs is more good listeners — not tone deaf musicians.

DEAR MUFFED IN BANGKOK
DEAR EAR-MUFFED: It's a comfort to know that it's the same in Kenosha as it is in Bangkok.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a sports nut. He monopolizes the color TV and the children and I miss some of our favorite programs.

Last Christmas I thought I would solve that problem, so I brought him a portable TV.

WINS HOMEMAKER COMPETITION—New York's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for 1972 is Jane Lillian Widger of Marcellus Central high school, Marcellus. Chosen on the basis of her performance in the annual Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow educational program, she will receive a $1,500 scholarship from program sponsor General Mills. A total of 44,387 senior girls in 793 of the state's high schools were enrolled in this year's search.

Dear Abby
BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ANTI: You have a super selfish husband there, lady. Tell him that as long as the family can afford only two TVs, it's one to a customer.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Do Something This Spring About Mud and Grit

Springtime and the best of back entries take on the look of a disaster area. As April showers awaken flowers, the family is busy cleaning up the yard and preparing planting areas. Children take to outdoor play again. To the homemaker it is "tracked-in-mud month." And something has to be done about it!

The first step to limiting the amount of outdoor debris brought indoors is to make sure everyone uses the same entry after "dirty" work or play. To keep mud and grit from being tracked through the house, resign yourself to the fact that this area will have to be cleaned at least once a day — maybe more on busy weekends when children are home from school.

Next figure out the best ways to keep the clutter confined to that one part of the house. It is ideal if a half-bath is located near the entry. Then children can interrupt play to use the toilet, wash up and be out again with no problems. However, if this isn't possible, have them take off their shoes or boots before walking through the house. They may groan, but it takes longer to erase the trail of tracks than for them to get out of and into shoes. Even if children are young and need help with their footwear, you will still save time having just one really muddy area with which to contend.

Another saver is to locate all the things children are likely to come in for near the "mudway." If possible, arrange a series of hooks and holders on a wall. This can be done quite attractively and is convenient year round for changes of sweaters and coats as well as a variety of toys. Or try a narrow freestanding bathroom towel rack. A suitably sized carton will hold bats, balls, mitts and what-have-you. If it is in view to other areas of the home, cover the box with a gaily patterned self-adhesive vinyl. A rimmed cookie tray is a handy temporary home for muddy boots and wet sneakers and can be carried with contents to the sink for suds sponging. Machine washable scatter rugs soak up a lot of foreign material. Have at least two on hand, one in use and one in the wash. Shake rugs out as often as necessary and launder frequently.

Finally, organize your cleanup equipment. Keep a small caddy or box of cleaning supplies near by to deal with finger prints and dirt on and around the doorknob and adjacent walls. A quick back and forth with a sponge mop keeps most flooring tolerable, with a more thorough scrubbing of the small area two or three times a week, depending on the ration of people, activities and outdoor conditions. A lightweight vacuum is helpful to pick up loose dirt from floors and especially carpeted floors.

With a through-the-garage, utility or rec room arrangement, it may be possible to screen off a section as a dressing area. Keep a change of clothes or clean tubbable robes ready for young people as well as for yourself and husband when working in the yard. Also, have a laundry basket for fast deposit of muddied work and play togs.

Maintaining at least some measure of control over the mud and grit carried in and out by family members allows more time to really enjoy the wonders of spring.

Sprouted Wheat Bread For a 'Now' Sandwich

Everyone likes a change from the ordinary. Especially when it comes to sandwiches.

Young people in particular have become attuned to sunflower seeds, sesame seeds, raw wheat germ, honey and unsulphured molasses. Put them all together in one loaf of bread — as has been done in the new Sprouted Wheat Bread now on the market — and you're half-way home with an appealingly different sandwich.

The sandwich fillings below have been planned to make the best use of various foods with a minimum of processing — honey, raisins, yogurt, avocado and even alfalfa sprouts, which, to the uninitiated, taste like raw, garden-fresh peas and provide a surprisingly good change from lettuce.

The texture combinations of the filling complement the dense, chewy nature of this new seed-rich bread. What a delicious way to get your vitamins!

When making sandwiches, remember to spread the bread with butter or margarine to keep it from drying out and prevent fillings from soaking in. Sprouted Wheat Bread is equally good plain or toasted.

Avocado Bacon and Lettuce

Fry eight slices of bacon until crisp, set aside and place on avocado filling. Mash one ripe avocado until smooth. Blend in one tablespoon minced onion, one teaspoon salt, three-quarters teaspoon lemon juice and a dash of tabasco. Boston lettuce optional. Enough for four sandwiches.

Banana Honey

Combine one package (three ounces) cream cheese with one medium banana, mashed, two tablespoons honey and one quarter teaspoon lemon juice. Enough for six sandwiches.

Flavored Yogurt and Cream Cheese

Thin one package (three ounces) cream cheese to spreading consistency with apricot, pineapple or prune yogurt. Enough for two sandwiches.

Carrot and Raisin

Shred one-half cup carrots; mix with two tablespoons chopped raisins and mayonnaise to moisten. Enough for two sandwiches.

Cottage Cheese and Sprouts

Combine one cup creamed cottage cheese with one-quarter cup alfalfa sprouts and two tablespoons chopped parsley. Enough for six sandwiches.

THE NUTLIKE GRAINS of wheat, bits of sunflower and sesame seeds in the new Sprouted Wheat Bread combine favorably with the smooth texture of an avocado filling topped off with bacon and lettuce.

Who Wants to Lick the Bowl?

DEAR HELOISE:

When the kids were preschoolers, I always had trouble getting them to come in when I called.

After thinking about it, I realized that the only reason I called them was because I wanted them to do what I wanted!

So I started calling them in to lick the cookie bowl or to give the whole gang a snack. They sure started coming faster when I called!

Also, I found them saying, "Just a minute," or "wait," when I wanted them to do something.

After thinking about it, I found I had been doing the same thing to them. Since I have tried to quit that, they have, too.

And it seemed everytime I took them shopping all they did was fuss about not being able to look at what they wanted. So every so often we went shopping just to look at what they wanted and browse to their hearts' content. Just seeing how much they enjoyed this made it fun for me, too!

Mrs. F.J.B.

DEAR HELOISE:

We have a beautiful cocker spaniel we all love, but . . . Washing his dish each day

Hints From Heloise

was a much dreaded job.

So now we save and wash the empty milk cartons, cut them down to the needed size, and fill with his food. Just throw it away when he finishes eating.

Love you, ALINE

You can also turn the carton on its side, with the pouring spout up, so the bottom half will hold liquid, and and cut the top side open around three sides.

This makes a disposable dish with a open lid. Fill only half full when using liquids, or it might spill.

LOVE YOU, TOO, HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

If your kiddies are too many for your chairs, and toys with little pieces give you tears, try this:

Place a child's toy chest behind your kitchen or dining table. These are very attractive under a window or in a corner topped with a plant or throw pillows.

Even a very very full chest can be easily slid up to the table without marring the floor, if felt is glued to the bottom.

Fill the chest with all those toys containing small pieces, games, craft items, paper dolls, puzzles in bags, etc.

These table toys aren't as easily lost or broken when played with at the table and are much easier to pick up at the table.

PAT MOORE

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a slick trick that might help a new homemaker who finds herself in need of a cookie or biscuit cutter.

Remove the top and bottom from an empty tuna fish can and you have a dandy cookie cutter.

For a biscuit cutter, do the same with a smaller-sized can.

A wall can opener leaves a nice smooth edge.

MRS. GRACE DEWEY

DEAR HELOISE:

I have found a neat way to put gripper-type fasteners on a garment.

I hold them in place with celophane tape while I tap them with a hammer.

I save not only time, but my fingers as well.

Candy Distributed to Senior Citizens 43rd Wedding Anniversary, Observed

Members of the Martin Luther King Senior Citizens Club made Easter Sunday a little brighter for almost 200 of their fellow senior citizens this year. The club distributed Easter candy packages to residents of nursing homes in the area.

Seventy-eight packages went to senior citizens at the Ulster County Infirmary, another 53 packages went to the annex on Golden Hill and 62 packages were handed out at the Rondout Neighborhood Center.

Mrs. Annie Jackson, a senior citizen herself, was in charge of the program, but didn't get a package. "That's alright," she said, "we made a lot of other people happy."

Mrs. Jackson also announced that two sewing machines with material were donated by the Ulster County Senior Citizens Alliance. The donation of the service charge for the installation of a television at the senior citizens rooms at the Rondout center by the Kingston Lions Club was also noted.

Members of the club hosted a luncheon following the dedication of the Rondout Center on Feb. 28.

The club meets in regular session on the second Tuesday of every month at the Rondout Center. All senior citizens are invited to join.

Mortgage in Advance

KINGSTON new service eliminates almost all uncertainty on the part of both the buyer and seller regarding the financing of the house.

The "Mortgage in Advance" certificate is issued for six months, and may be renewed if a buyer needs more time to find a house. Bankers Trust Hudson Valley's current mortgage lending rate is 7.5 per cent with maturities of up to 25 years. The bank offers mortgage loans as high as $35,000 for up to 80 per cent of its appraisal of a house. The service is applicable to one and two family owner occupied homes.

"Mortgage in Advance" ends the long waits generally associated with mortgage approvals after the buyer has found the house he wants," added Kelly. "This new service will benefit the home buyer and seller, and the real estate broker as well."

The bank said that it will issue "Mortgage in Advance" certificates which will confirm that the holder has a commitment from Bankers Trust for a pre-arranged amount of credit.

The service will be available to home buyers throughout New York State and Northern New Jersey through the eight member banks in Bankers Trust New York Corporation; a multi-bank holding company with more than 160 offices in 24 counties.

"Our customers can shop for a house knowing that they're 'half-way home' with their mortgage," Kelly said. "The

Also on hand and offering congratulations to the new retiree was Max Eckdich, plant manager. Mrs. Komosa also was feted by her co-workers at a departmental party at which time she received a brooch. Caldor Names Veteran Worker To Key Post NORWALK, CONN. Luke Kirby, Caldor's longest service employee, has been named general merchandise manager for hardlines for the 20-store regional mass merchandising chain.

Carl Bennett, Caldor president, said Kirby's new responsibilities are "part of a program to broaden our management depth as the company begins its third decade, as well as to recognize his personal contribution to Caldor's growth during its first 20 years."

Kirby joined Caldor in 1954 after several years' experience in the retail liquor business. He assisted the founders—Carl and Dorothy Bennett—in their initial Port Chester location.

In the years following, he held several positions in store operations and in purchasing. As the Caldor staff grew, he concentrated his buying and merchandising activities in hardlines.

In his new post, he is now responsible for supervising, and coordinating purchasing, advertising, merchandising and promotion of the six divisions that include hardware, automotive, seasonal and garden goods, traffic and major appliances, home entertainment, sporting goods, photographic equipment and related lines.

Caldor opened its 20th store March 9 in Poughkeepsie. At least three other new stores are programmed for 1972. Sales for the year ended Jan. 31, 1972, exceeded $116,000,000. In addition to Connecticut and New York, Caldor also operates stores in Massachusetts.

A 1945 graduate of Greenwich High School, followed by two years Army service, Kirby still resides in the Greenwich area. He and his wife, the former Arlene MacEachrean, have been married 23 years. They have three children—Sandra, 22, a Dickinson College honor student; Nancy, 20, attending Endicott Junior College; and Luke Jr., 15, in junior high school.

He describes his main leisure activity as "work," but also likes to golf, fish and bowl. He is active in local church activities.

A Kingston Caldor store is located on Ulster Avenue Mall.

Shoe-Town Adds 72nd Store

TOTOUA, N. J. The Felsway Corporation (American Stock Exchange) opened a Shoe-Town store in Eatontown, N. J. March 23, it was announced by Marvin J. Ruddy, vice president — store operations and real estate.

The new unit brings the number of stores in the Shoe-Town chain to 72 and the stores opened since the beginning of the current fiscal year (February 27, 1972) to six. Plans call for the opening of 22 to 25 units during fiscal 1972-73. During the previous fiscal year, Felsway opened 18 Shoe-Town stores, more than in any prior year.

After opening of the Eatontown unit, Felsway now operates 78 shoe stores in the East, most of them under the Shoe-Town name; 13 S & A and Avante stores and three Shoe-Town type units in Southern California; 12 Millar hosiery, sportswear and specialty units in the East; and Footwear Unlimited, Inc., its wholesale shoe division.

Felsway operates at Shoe-Town store at Shop-Rite Square, Ulster Avenue Mall.

Recycling Area Closed

WOODSTOCK

The experimental recycling area in the Woodstock sanitary landfill for deposit of bottles and aluminum has been closed by the Ecology Committee of Ontario Lions Club.

Woodstockers are requested to save their bottles and seamless aluminum cans for the next recycling drive in Bradley Meadows shopping center, Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The committee established the area last summer. Several shipments were taken out for recycling. The last went this week to the Sheltered Workshop in Hudson, of the Association for Mentally Retarded. Mike Grehl's Gulf service station donated a large U-Haul truck for transport.

From now on, glass and aluminum must be dropped in the garbage collection area at the landfill if it cannot be kept for periodic recycling drives at Bradley Meadows.

Elias to a charge of criminal possession of an implement adapted for administering drugs—a hypodermic needle.

Judge Elias sentenced Robinson to 90 days in jail. Four others arrested at the same time were released after Assistant Attorney Joseph Traficanti withdrew charges involving narcotics, and/or loitering and possessing narcotic implements. They were Barbara Graco, also known as Barbara Driscoll, 26, of Lindhurst, N. J., Maria Fernandez, 22, and Fred Newkirk, 23, both of the Center Street address, and James Peter Allen, 30, of Brodhead Street, Ellenville.

Cogar Plant Has Layoff

WAPPINGERS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — More than half the work force at the computer-accessory plant operated here by Cogar, Inc., will be laid off during the next several weeks, the company announced Tuesday.

A spokesman for the firm said the laying off of 140 of its 260 employees was necessitated by the failure of subcontractors to provide needed components used in the production of its data-delivery systems.

Last year, Cogar drastically reduced the work force at its plant in Utica.

Food Fair QD No. 1 low price leader scores another blow for consumers.

We have clamped the lid on fresh meat prices for the next 30 days. The freeze applies to all fresh meat products including beef, pork, lamb, veal and poultry.

Many of our fresh meat products have been selling regularly below prices which prevailed during the base period when price controls were imposed last August.

Now you can shop even more confidently knowing that fresh meat prices will not be raised and as market conditions permit they will be lowered.

And we'll still continue to feature weekly advertised prices on meat items in additions to our regular low prices.

His Block Saves Bullets Win

Playoffs Spark Tresvant

BALTIMORE (UPI) — John Tresvant would be the first to tell you he's a different player during the playoffs.

The Baltimore forward made a key block of an Earl Monroe shot with 21 seconds left to preserve a 104-103 victory Tuesday night that brought the Bullets 2-1 edge in their best-of-seven series with the New York Knicks.

Playing 42 minutes in place of the injured Gus Johnson, Tresvant overshadowed Bullets heroes Archie Clark and Wes Unseld.

"I thought Monroe was going to pull up for a jump shot," Tresvant said. "Instead, he went for the hoop but nothing tricky like he can do. He simply shot the ball right into my hands."

Tresvant also scored 15 points and pulled down 12 rebounds to match Unseld and New York's Jerry Lucas. "We did some team rebounding tonight which gave them less shots," Tresvant added. "We didn't even let Frazier get to the boards."

While Monroe scored 12 of his 28 points in the final quarter, Frazier managed only one point while the "Pearl" controlled the ball. Frazier had 13 points in the third quarter to help build a 74-69 Knicks lead. The clubs were tied 78-78 after three quarters.

Besides Tresvant's unexpected contributions, rookie Phil

Chenier scored 10 of his 16 points in the third quarter and also played a major role in stopping Monroe's attempted game winner.

"I was thinking that if he was going to score, it wasn't going to be on a jump shot," Chenier said. "I wanted to keep Monroe out of the middle and even though I didn't mean for him to get by me, it worked out perfect."

Dave Stallworth, who got a piece of the ball before Tresvant rebounded at the finish, thought Chenier did a "fantastic" job guarding Monroe. "Nobody does much with Earl when he's hot," Stallworth said. "But Chenier didn't embarrass himself."

Monroe shot 13-for-29 but blew a layup with 2:10 left that set up the winning Bullets' points. With Clark trailing the play as Monroe's ball fell off the rim, Frazier fouled Clark in a bonus situation and Archie hit both for a 104-101 lead.

Monroe hit a jump shot with 1:27 to go but then lost the ball out of bounds on the next series when he couldn't handle a Dave DeBusschere pass.

The fourth quarter was highlighted by Jack Marin of Baltimore and Phil Jackson of the Knicks trading punches with 3:20 left. The fight cost Marin his sixth personal foul. "I'd say he was trying to get me out of the game I can't give him enough credit for being that quick-witted," said Marin. "He speared me with an elbow after I had rebounded a ball cleanly and then hit me with a cheap shot going up court."

After a series of punches Marin had Jackson on the court and it took Unseld, DeBusschere and Tresvant to pull him off. Jackson had hurt the Bullets with 11 of his 14 points in the second quarter which helped build a 52-47 halftime lead.

DeBusschere finished with 16 points while Lucas added 12. The series continue in New York Thursday afternoon and returns to Baltimore Sunday for the fifth game.

Nets Register Another Shocker

Even coach Joe Mullaney admitted the Louisville police made the wrong arrest Tuesday night when the New York Nets took a 2-0 lead over the Kentucky Colonels in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division playoffs.

"We're the ones who should have been arrested," said Mullaney when advised that a New York sports writer had been apprehended after the Nets' 105-90 victory over the Colonels. The loss was a shocker to Mullaney and the Colonels because they went into the playoffs as heavy favorites to win the title.

The reporter was arrested for disorderly conduct after a scuffle with a Louisville policeman in the Nets' dressing room. Beglane was protesting that the Louisville police had not given coach Lou Carnesecca and the Nets adequate protection from the fans.

Rick Barry and rookie John Roche combined for 38 points to lead the Nets to a 52-34 halftime lead and the Colonels were never seriously in the game thereafter. The 34 points were the fewest ever scored by a team during the first half of an ABA playoff game.

Barry finished with 35 points and Roche with 31 for the Nets, who will host the Colonels in the third game of the series tonight.

"Roche is doing a super job—all the things that Bill Melchionni (the Nets' injured playmaker) did," said Barry. "Tom Washington has done the best defensive job anyone has done on Dan Issel in two years. Bill Paulitz and Roche have been the key to the series. Our defense is winning for us."

"We came in here hoping to win just one game, but now we're playing a five-game series and have to win two," Issel, who averaged 30 points a game during the regular season, was held to 22 while Paulitz matched the Colonels' Artis Gilmore in rebounds with 16.

Julius Erving scored 53 points to lead the Virginia Squires to a 118-113 victory over the Floridians and the Indiana Pacers edged the Denver Rockets 122-120 in overtime. The fourth playoff series between Utah and Dallas resumes tonight at Dallas with Utah holding a 2-0 lead in games.

Erving's 53 points equalled the ABA playoff record and led the Squires to a 3-0 lead in games over the Floridians. It took two free throws by Erving with 34 seconds left in the game to produce a 117-113 lead and ice the game for the Squires. Mack Calvin led the Floridians with 27 points and Warren Jabali added 22.

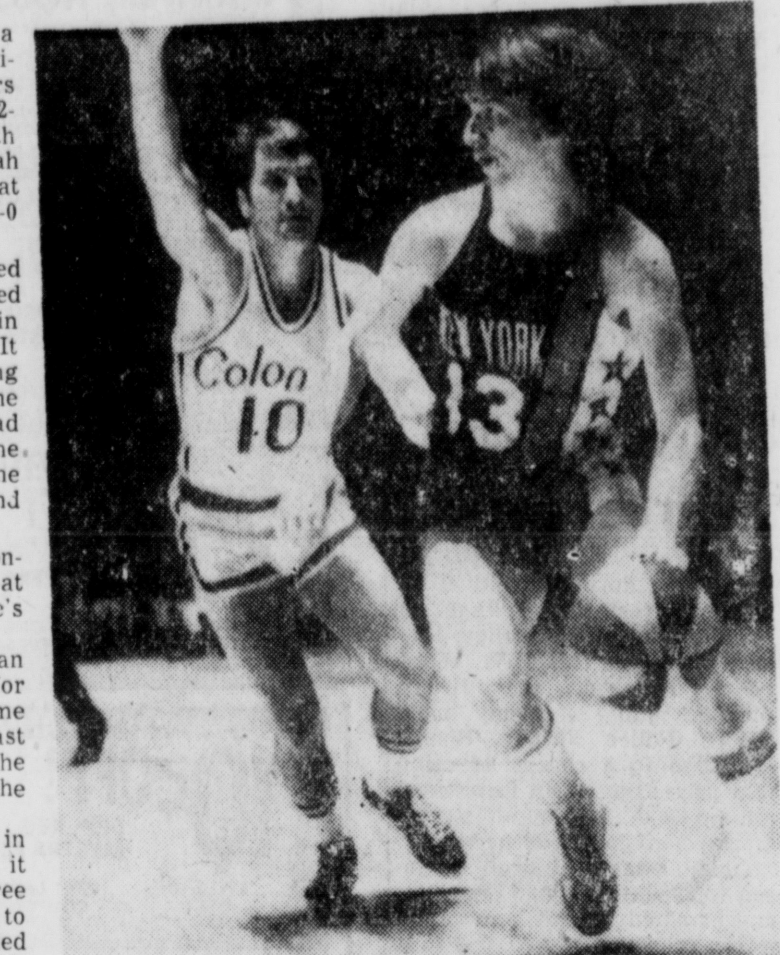

The best-of-seven series continues Thursday night at Miami-Dade Junior College's north campus.

Guards Roger Brown and Freddie Lewis combined for nine of Indiana's 12 overtime points to lead the Pacers past the Rockets and help the winners take a 2-1 lead in the series.

Brown led the Pacers in scoring with 30 points but it was George McGinnis' two free throws with five seconds left to play in overtime that provided Indiana with its winning margin. Ralph Simpson paced the Rockets with 33 points.

The two teams meet again in Denver Thursday night.

Mr. Clutch Leads Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They don't call Jerry West "Mr. Clutch" for nothing. West was held scoreless in the first half Tuesday night and the Chicago Bulls took a 50-46 halftime lead over the Lakers.

West erupted for 23 points in the second half — and Los Angeles came on to beat the Bulls 108-97 and sweep their National Basketball Association Western Conference semifinal playoff series, four games to none.

The Lakers now advance to the Western Conference finals, where they'll meet the winner of the Golden State — Milwaukee semifinal.

Milwaukee took a 3-1 lead in that series by beating the Warriors 106-99 Tuesday night. The Bucks will try to wrap it up at home Thursday night.

In Eastern Conference semifinal series, Baltimore took a 2-1 lead by edging the New York Knicks 104-103 behind Archie Clark's 35 points, while Pete Maravich tossed in 36 points to power Atlanta past Boston 112-110, tying that series 2-2.

West did not score any points in the first half, but did commit three personal fouls. So Coach Bill Sharman decided to sit his star backcourtman down after 14 minutes of first half action.

"We had some words, Jerry never wants to leave a game," Sharman later explained. "But he had three personals and I didn't want him stuck with four or five in the last half, when the going could have been rougher than it was."

West's first basket came at 7:40 of the third quarter and put the Lakers ahead 60-59. The Lakers led 77-75 after three quarters, then outscored Chicago 31-22 in the fourth quarter. West had six of his baskets in that final period.

West's backcourt mate, Gail Goodrich, led all scorers with 27 points, and Jim McMillian equalled West's 23 points for the Lakers. Center Cliff Ray topped Chicago with 20 points and 17 rebounds.

Los Angeles center Wilt Chamberlain, who scored only eight points, hauled in a whopping 31 rebounds for the Lakers.

The bucks got only 26 points for their two best-known stars, Kareem Abdul Jabbar and Oscar Robertson, but their "other people" came through in big fashion.

Forward Bob Dandridge led the Bucks in scoring with 31 points, and reserves Wally Jones and John Block came off the bench to score three baskets apiece as Milwaukee outscored the Warriors 16-6 at the start of the second quarter. Milwaukee held only a 33-32 lead before that spurt.

Jabbar was held to 15 points but did come through with 20 rebounds, while Robertson had 11 points and the same number of assists.

Jim Barnett tossed in 29 points and Nate Thurmond, the veteran center who reportedly received a $2 million offer to jump to the Carolina Cougars of the ABA, added 26.

Atlanta scored the last six points of the second quarter, then outscored Boston 14-1 at the start of the third period to turn a 54-46 deficit into a 66-55 lead. The Celtics managed to tie the score three times late in the game, but were never again in front.

Boston guard Jo Jo White led his team with 32 points, but Celtics Coach Tom Heinsohn had one question following the game.

"How in the world," he asked, "can Pete Maravich go to the free throw line 20 times and Jo Jo White not a single time?"

WATCH OUT, MAN — With his arm wrapped around the ball, Atlanta's Don Adams (10) tries to bull his way through two Boston defenders, Don Nelson (19) and Don Chaney (12) in first quarter action Tuesday. Atlanta's Jim Washington (12) follows the action. Atlanta won to even the best of seven series at two games apiece. (UPI)

Medical Reports Haunting Bruins

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

Memories of the past and the medical reports of the present appear to be the prime obstacles standing between the Boston Bruins and the Stanley Cup championship.

Boston will be at home to the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight when the post-season activity begins on four fronts. In the other quarter-final series, Pittsburgh will be at Chicago, Montreal at New York and St. Louis at Minnesota.

The Bruins unquestionably boast the finest individual talent in the National Hockey League, led by super-scorer Phil Esposito and super-everything Bobby Orr, but it is basically the same talent they had last year when they set almost 40 records during the regular campaign only to be eliminated by Montreal in the opening round of the playoffs.

In addition, Boston has suffered some nagging medical problems recently, with Esposito, Orr, Derek Sanderson, Ken Hodge and Fred Stanfield the victims. Sanderson, in fact, has been spending most of his time in Massachusetts General Hospital with a colitis condition, although he was allowed to leave Tuesday to attend practice and says he will be able to play tonight.

Coach Tom Johnson says he won't know until today if Hodge, who sprained his right ankle Sunday, or Stanfield, who hurt his knee in the same game, will be able to play. The other injured are expected to be in the lineup.

Regardless of the manpower situation, the Leafs, who finished 39 points behind first place Boston in the East, know they'll have to play a better brand of hockey than they showed in the regular season to knock off the Bruins. But they feel they can do it.

"We'll have to keep the game real tight, they have too much power for us to play wide open," said Paul Henderson, a 38-goal scorer for Toronto.

"Everyone is just going to have to stick to his man and we're probably going to have to work a lot harder than they do."

"We're going to have to try to get on top of them and keep them in their end and we're going to have to contain Esposito and Orr. If you contain the two of them then they can be had, but it's an awful tough job doing it."

Jim Harrison, who probably will draw the principal job of checking Esposito, who wound up with 66 goals and 133 points, said, "They have those two great hockey players but they don't play that well as a team. But I still think they'll be tougher this year than they were last year."

Montreal, which went on to win the Stanley Cup last year, after finishing third in the East, will try to duplicate that feat in pretty much the same fashion—behind the gigantic talent of 6-4 goalie Ken Dryden. The Canadiens, though, are missing two important cogs from last year's team—Jean Beliveau and John Ferguson—and beat the Rangers only once in six tries during the regular season.

"I feel our position is about the same this year as it was last year," said Dryden, who won 39 games and lost only eight in his first full season of work in the NHL. "The playoffs are really a very different thing than the regular season and you play it somewhat differently. You only have to win a certain number of games ... I think we have at least as good a team as last year and we don't have any injuries, so if that's going into it in good shape, then I think we're okay."

The Rangers will be without center Jean Ratelle, a 46-goal scorer before breaking a bone in his right ankle.

Chicago, which ran away with the West Division title for the second consecutive year, pretty much had its own way all season with the Penguins, winning five games and tying one. The Hawks come into the playoffs having lost only one of their last 17 games and with seemingly too much firepower for Pittsburgh, which barely sneaked into fourth place on the final day of the season.

The Hawks will have to get by for at least another week without Lou Angotti, suffering from a separated shoulder, while Keith McCreary, who underwent knee surgery in January, is available to the Penguins if they want to use him.

Minnesota and St. Louis both come into their series healthy, with the North Stars favored to win after their best season ever.

All four quarter-finals will continue at the same sites Thursday night, with the scene then shifting to Toronto, Montreal, Pittsburgh and St. Louis for the third and fourth games on Saturday and Sunday.

Ashe Gets Break, Then Beats Shafei

HOUSTON (UPI) — Arthur Ashe, who paralyzed a favorable official's ruling and the advice of a friend to win his first round match, went into the second round of the $50,000 River Oaks Tennis Tournament today against temperamental Nikola Pilic of Yugoslavia.

Ashe defeated Egypt's Ismail El Shafei 6-3, 7-6 in an opening round match which was postponed from Monday to Tuesday because Ashe did not show up or notify tournament officials

Monday. Ashe admits he should have had to forfeit the match, but charitable officials said they couldn't do that because they might be accused of discriminating against Ashe, a Negro.

"That's ridiculous," Ashe said. Negroes were barred from the tournament until 1964, Ashe said.

Ashe said he picked up some crucial advice from John Newcombe in a practice session shortly before the El Shafei match that was helpful in

Adolph Rupp Could Be Had

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Adolph Rupp says he's not bitter because the University of Kentucky turned him out to pasture after 42 years as head basketball coach. But the 70-year-old "man in the brown suit" says he's considering an offer that would put him back on the court.

In a telephone interview from his home in Lexington, Ky., Rupp told the Orlando Sentinel that he had received an offer to coach a basketball team, but Rupp wouldn't say which team that was.

"I've got some business interests around Lexington, and of course, I'd have to be allowed to keep them running — have the time to give them some attention," Rupp said. "I'd also like a say in the hiring of the help."

Rupp said that if the problems could be ironed out, out. "Yes, I'm considering taking them upon their offer."

On March 27, the University of Kentucky athletic board voted to retire Rupp involuntarily because he had reached the mandatory retirement age of 70.

Rupp had compiled a string of 879 victories and 190 defeats, took his team to NCAA championships four times and won one National Invitational Championship.

Rupp said he had several job offers, including broadcasting positions offered by radio and television stations and an offer from "someone who wanted me to write a syndicated column and things like that."

He said it would take a "tremendous offer" to get him to leave Lexington, and added the coaching job he was considering was "one tremendous offer."

Pee Wee Hockey Loop Faces Big Problem

A meeting to investigate the possibilities of constructing an artificial refrigerated ice skating facility in the Kingston area will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on the fifth floor of the county office building in Kingston.

Dan Caragher, who recently proposed plans for a Pee Wee hockey league for next winter, received some discouraging news from other upstate area league officials that a sanctioned Pee Wee league could not operate smoothly without a refrigerated rink. This is a must, Caragher was told, to insure a steady supply of ice to maintain a schedule.

Three area residents who are deeply interested in seeing a hockey program started—Jerry Lussier, Bob Goodrich and Richard Whitney—will be part of a four-man committee, along with many other interested parties to promote the program.

Principal topics of discussion at the meeting will be estimated costs of the project and ways and means of funding the program. All interested service or organization officials in the area are invited.

Strike Continues, Cincy Opener Cancelled

Owners Throw Ball Back to the Players

CHICAGO (AP)—Terming the demand for a 17 per cent hike in pension benefits "totally unreasonable," baseball's 24 major league teams posted "No Game Today" signs at their ballparks and tossed the ball back to their striking players on what was to have been opening day of the 1972 season.

After an emergency five-hour meeting at which all of the clubs were represented, John Gaherin, negotiator for the owners, reported that the teams had reaffirmed the position of their Player Relations Committee, which had earlier turned down the players' proposal to end the strike.

"There was no sentiment to accept the players' proposal," said Gaherin, looking grim and worn. "The whole matter of a 17 per cent raise in pension benefits is vitally unreasonable, even in the light of the players' cost of living argument, which is not applicable in pension plan negotiations."

The players had offered to return to work on Monday, accepting the owners' original $490,000 boost for their health care package provided they could use the surplus in their $45 million fund for pension improvements. That proposal was rejected as "an imprudent approach" by the Player

Relations Committee and that rejection was unanimously endorsed by the 24 clubs in Tuesday night's meeting.

"We are calling on the players association in the interest of the public and the game of baseball to have the players rejoin their clubs so that the season may commence as soon as practicable," said Gaherin.

"It would certainly be an advantage to all concerned to get the season started," said Gaherin. "There's no reason why this matter can't be dealt with that way."

Gaherin said he would attempt to resume negotiations with Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association, today. "I'll call him in the morning, if I can find him," Gaherin said.

Miller was in Cincinnati Tuesday night to meet with Reds players. Earlier Tuesday, the Cincinnati club officially postponed today's game against Houston which was to open the 1972 season.

Gaherin said he had no new proposal to bring to the players. "We will wait until we hear something reasonable within the realm of possibility," the owners' representative said. "There is nothing requiring that you make proposals," Gaherin said. "We'll wait and listen for one."

Gaherin indicated that the owners might accept some increase in pension benefits, but that the 17 per cent demanded by the players was too high.

"That's not the kind of thing you negotiate in a news conference," he said.

Gaherin said the strike would continue "until we get a satisfactory settlement or the players agree to play."

Players Pay Last Respects

Bury Hodges On Thursday

By United Press International

The "Flatbush Faithful" who stood by Gil Hodges through his many years as a star first baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers and later as manager of the New York Mets will gather today to pay their final respects.

Hodges, who died Easter Sunday in West Palm Beach, Fla., of a heart attack at the age of 47, lay in state Tuesday at the Andrew Borregross Funeral Home in Brooklyn. Tuesday's viewing basically was for relatives and friends and the body will be moved today to Our Lady Help of Christians, a Roman Catholic Church, just a few blocks from Hodges' home in Brooklyn's Midwood section, for public viewing from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.

A Mass of the Resurrection is scheduled at the church Thursday morning to be followed by a private burial service at Holy Cross Cemetery, also in Brooklyn.

Hundreds of fans gathered early Tuesday morning despite a steady rain and a number were allowed to view the remains before the family arrived shortly before noon. Viewing was then limited to friends and relatives throughout the remainder of the day and more than 100 fans remained outside the funeral home at nearly 11 p.m. when the family left. Hodges' mother, Mrs. Charles Hodges of Princeton, Ind., arrived late in the evening accompanied by Joe Pignatano, a Met coach and one of Hodges' close personal friends.

Met players Tom Seaver, Bud Harrelson, Jerry Koosman and Tommie Agee, former Met Ron Swoboda, now with the New York Yankees, coaches Eddie Yost and Yogi Berra and former baseball players Ken and Bob Aspromonte and Billy Loe were among the estimated 1,000 persons who viewed Hodges' remains Tuesday. Other sports figures included Weed Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets of the National Football and former bowling star Andy Varipapa.

Officials of the funeral home converted three chapels into one 600-seat auditorium but still had to halt viewing for more than a half hour because of the size of the crowd.

Loes, the former Dodger pitcher and the first of Hodges' ex-Brooklyn teammates to view the body, was near tears as he left and Bob Aspromonte, Hodges' roommate as a 17-year-old rookie in 1957, was visibly shaken. Aspromonte played under Hodges in New York last season.

Seaver and Harrelson, both All-Star performers, were solemn but did express surprise that the Mets' scheduled opener at Pittsburgh against the World Champion Pirates Thursday had not been postponed, a players' strike notwithstanding. It had been reported that Pittsburgh officials wished to play the game if the strike was over despite the fact that it was the same day as Hodges' funeral.

"I'm surprised the game hasn't already been called off in respect for Gil," said Seaver, who was one of the club's stars during its World Series victory three seasons ago and ranks as one of the top pitchers in baseball. "In any case, I will not play."

Harrelson, the starting shortstop for the National League in the All-Star game last season, reacted more strongly. "I want to be here for the funeral Thursday. If the Buc management had any guts, they'd call it off now no matter how the strike negotiations go."

The New York Yankees already have cancelled their scheduled home opener against Baltimore Thursday in respect to Hodges' memory.

Cancer Operation Leaves Littler's Future in Doubt

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Veteran golfer Gene Littler was recovering today from a two-hour cancer operation which left his professional future in doubt.

He was reported in satisfactory condition.

After having a malignant tumor removed from under his left arm March 15, Littler had all the lymph gland-bearing tissue beneath the arm removed Tuesday to see if the disease had spread.

The tissue removed at surgery will be analyzed in detail by the laboratory and results of the study should be available by Friday," a spokesman at Mercy Hospital said.

Littler, a 41-year-old former winner of the U.S. Open, said before the operation he did not know how removing the tissues would effect his ability to perform on the professional golf tour, but admitted it could end his 18-year career.

The hospital spokesman said it wasn't yet known how long Littler would have to remain in the hospital, or how long it would take him to recuperate at his home in suburban La Jolla.

Players' Director Blasts Cincy's GM

CINCINNATI AP — Marvin Miller, executive director of the striking Major League Baseball Players Association left for Baltimore today after branding Cincinnati's Red General Manager Bob Howsam "a liar."

Howsam had charged earlier in the day that without Miller there would be no players' strike and that baseball would be better off without him.

"Mr. Howsam is a liar," said Miller. "I appreciate the compliment, but it isn't true. I could go to Timbuctoo and it wouldn't make any difference. He assumes this is a one-man organization."

"But these are not the same players as there were in the game 20 years ago. Howsam and some of the other owners and general managers are living as it was 20 years ago. The players today are more concerned, more sophisticated, more educated. They are aware how much money there is in this game, despite the owners' cry of poverty."

"This is ridiculous and absurd. Fortunately not all of management is this way."

Howsam was not immediately available for comment. He was at an owners' meeting in Chicago.

Miller said he was convinced the owners are not interested in reaching a settlement even though it will cost them money if the strike continues. He said he believes they are more interested in "breaking the back of the players' association."

Miller met with 12 Cincinnati Reds players. The Reds had been scheduled to meet the Houston Astros today in their season opener.

Miller maintained the money is already in the pension plan to fund the players demand for a 17 per cent increase in benefits. He said the actuarial money belongs to the players but the owners must agree to release this fund and they won't do it.

"All we're saying is the money in the plan has the capability of paying the increased health and pension benefits," he said.

"We have put our money where our mouth is," he said, noting that it was "strange" that the owners did not accept the contention that there was $800,000 available in the fund.

"The plan employs and actuarial firm. Retirement plans Inc., Cleveland. They have been doing this job for 17 years and were hired by John Gallbreath, an owner. In the past 17 years no one has challenged its figures. Now we ask them to use these figures and they won't accept them."

"The solution is for the owners to stop the nonsense of trying to break the association and to sit down and negotiate. If they did we'd have a settlement within an hour . . . no, within 15 minutes."

Hawks Lose Southern Baseball Opener

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. — State University College of New Paltz, N.Y. lost its 1972 baseball opener to College of Albemarle 7-1 here Tuesday, but Coach Pete Kramer was apparently satisfied with the Hawks' first performance of the season.

"We didn't figure to win this one," said Kramer, explaining that Albemarle was playing its 18th game of the season and their victory was No. 16 against only two losses.

"I was particularly impressed with our infield play, even if we did commit three errors," Kramer went on. "We came up with several good plays and a fine inning-ending double play."

Mike Edwards, a strapping 6-2 fireballer who has accounted for nine of the 18 Albemarle victories, shackled the Hawks on six hits and the one run they scored as unearned. He walked only two and struck out 10.

Kramer pointed out that "this was the first time we played a regular game outdoors this season and the first time we were against live pitching."

New Paltz escaped a shutout with an unearned run in the third inning. With one out, second baseman Bob Kozak singled, moved to second on Scammacca's infield out to third on a fielder's choice and scored on the shortstop's error. New Paltz's starting pitcher, Arnold Strauss, the 6-foot senior from Long Island, got by the first two batters in the bottom of the first and then things began to happen.

First Strauss plunked Hagen, Albemarle's right fielder, with a pitch on the shoulder. Mike Scammacca played Ellison's fly ball into an error instead of the third out and Bob Bishop slammed a line shot over the same Scammacca's head for a three-run homer.

"There was never any question about that one," Coach Kramer explained. "It was a real blast and for all intents and purposes that was the ball game. Edwards was just too tough and Albemarle was too advanced for us at this stage of the season."

Albemarle scored single runs in four other innings, climaxing their scoring with a solo homer pitcher Edwards off New Paltz reliever Rick Maize in the eighth inning.

The New Yorkers play Hampton Institute of Virginia Thursday, a repeat with Albemarle Friday and close out the four-game tour against Chesapeake Junior College of Virginia on Saturday.

Archer Is Fatalist About Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — George Archer is a fatalist when it comes to playing golf. The way the 6-foot-6 Californian sees it:

"I don't believe in streaks. I feel that when it is my turn to win, I'm going to win."

Big George obviously gets that feeling a lot more often than most of his fellow golf pros. The 1969 Masters champion has won 11 tournaments in the past seven years—including the Los Angeles Open back in January and the Greater Greensboro Open last Sunday.

"I never figured to win at Greensboro," said Archer. "I'd already packed my clubs in my car when I learned that Arnold Palmer had run into trouble and that Tommy Aaron and I were going to have a playoff."

The Greensboro victory, worth $40,000, boosted Archer's earnings so far this year to $96,425. "It's ironical," he noted. "But just a couple of days before Greensboro I told a friend that for Jack Nicklaus to win more than $100,000 before the Masters was simply fantastic. I never dreamed I would come so close to doing the same thing."

There are a lot of people here at Augusta who feel that Archer and U.S. Open Champion Lee Trevino are the two golfers with the best chance of beating Nicklaus this week. Archer, who finished fourth on last year's money list behind Nicklaus, Trevino and Arnold Palmer is more cautious.

"You can't count your chickens before they hatch," he said. "I've never finished within 10 strokes of the winner here except for the time I won."

The course is playing exceptionally long this year and that favors a power hitter like Nicklaus," Archer continued. "People seem to get the idea, because I'm so tall, that I'm a long-ball hitter. I'm not."

"Actually, I'm not very strong," said Archer. "I don't think I could do more than a couple of pushups or pullups. But the real secret for winning here at Augusta is your iron play. The greens are so big, and so curvy, that you risk three-putting any time you are 40 feet away."

Archer, 32, said he enjoys playing golf "whether it is the Screen Door Open or the Masters" and doesn't find himself any more charged up for a prestigious tournament than for a lesser one.

"The shorter the course, the better I like it," he said. "But weather usually is the key factor. Mother Nature has more to do with how a golf course plays than man."

Archer, who has 200 pounds stretched along his lanky frame, said he'd like to be stronger, to keep himself in better shape, "but I don't believe in punishing myself."

"I'll do exercises for a few days and then go, maybe, six months before I'll do some more. A while back I decided to do leg lifts to reduce my waist. I kept it up until I was able to hold my legs six inches off the floor for five minutes. But it's been about a year since I've done 'em."

"These fellows who do a lot of exercise and eat special diets are welcome to it," said Archer. "Me, I'd rather sit down to a big steak."

George Archer does not feel that winning last week at Greensboro will have any bearing on how he does here this week in the Masters Golf Tournament.

"That's money in the bank," he said. "Anyway, I've never won two tournaments back to back."

"What you have done before has nothing to do with it," Archer concluded. "All that really counts is whether you make the good shots and sink your putts. That's all there is to it in golf."

Orange Track Sets Opener

MIDDLETOWN—Top name drivers will be on hand in all three divisions when Orange County Fair Speedway opens for the 53rd season of auto racing Saturday night.

Rags Carter looms as the favorite to unseat top runners Buzzy Reutimann and Carl (Fuzzy) Van Horn in the modified events, with two Orange County drivers—Rich Eurich and Danny Mitchell—expected to join in the close competition.

Others trying to upset the favorites in the fast division include Bob Malzahn, Bobby Botcher, Frankie Schneider and Wayne Reutimann. Sonny Strupp returns to the races after a year's absence. Botcher, recognized as a threat at any track, could pull a big surprise with his No. 666 opening night.

Jerry Wilson leads the limited Sportsmen field with Eddie Dais of Middletown rated a serious contender in his new No. 97 set up for him by the Higby Brothers. The 97 carries a Boss 302 under its hood and with the extra zip Davis poses a serious threat to Wilson's crown.

With defending champion Brian DuBois without a ride and Dave Gibson moving up to the modified races, the field is wide open for a new champion in the Late Models division.

Due to the large field expected, pit gates open at 3 o'clock, one hour earlier than usual. Warmups are scheduled at 6 p.m., with the first race going off at 7 p.m. As in the past, the speedway will offer 15 exciting events including three big features.

J-F Rolls 3054 Set

SAUGERTIES—Bob Schoneman fell a pin shy of Pudgy Dunn for individual series honors in the Bowlers Club Major, but Schoneman's 213, 217, 236-666 blast got lots of help from a 634 from John Hanaman and a 615 from Jim Johnson to power Johnson Ford to 1069 and 1015 games and a 3054 team aggregate.

The J-F five blew Ciarlante's Trucking off the lanes in three straight despite Larry Petersen's 205, 255-632.

Polizzi Birds Score Double

SAUGERTIES—Fred Polizzi, the prominent Mount Marion pigeon fancier and breeder, hit the jackpot in the Kingston-Ulster County Racing Pigeon Club's first race of the 1972 season.

Polizzi's entries finished one-two in the 175 mile race from Deepwater, N.J., in competition against 163 entries from 12 lofts. The first bird was clocked at 1278,747 yards per minute, or roughly 45 miles per hour. It was released at 8:45 a.m. and was clocked here at 12:50 p.m.

Owners of birds that finished in order behind the Polizzi leaders were: Charles Morgan, Red Hook; Gene Barry, Gardiner; Bob Waltsky, Gardiner; Fred Thiel, Bloomington; Pat Armato, Gardiner; Lee Behnke, Highland; John Buckman, Kingston; Pete Baum, Gardiner; and Joe Filicetto, Saugerties.

Weather conditions were clear with brisk northwest winds. Next weekend's race will be from Aberdeen, Md.

Moon Visits to End After Apollo Missions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James C. Fletcher, space agency administrator, says there are no plans whatever for Americans to visit the moon again after the two remaining Apollo missions.

Fletcher said this will leave the moon exclusively to Soviet expeditions for at least 10 years.

He said he looks for some headline-making Soviet manned space flight after termination of the U.S. Skylab project, in 1973 or 1974, and would expect a lunar landing of cosmonauts in 1975.

While this Soviet manned-space activity is at a high pitch the U.S. astronaut program will be at a low level, Fletcher said.

This might lead to loud complaints, reminiscent of those which accompanied the Soviet achievement of the first satellite launchings in 1957, and the first manned space flights in 1961, said Fletcher, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Fletcher, as a dinner host to a small group of newsmen Tuesday, was asked what U.S. lunar-research programs are on tap following Apollo 16, to be launched April 16, and Apollo 17 next December.

"After Apollo 17 we have no plans to go to the moon, ever," Fletcher said. "There are studies, of course, but no actual plans."

"We have the three earth-orbital Skylab missions scheduled for next year, and no manned space flights until the shuttle in 1978."

"We are ahead until we phase out Apollo," he said. "We'll have a slow period after that, but then with the Shuttle we will be ahead again."

Fletcher said one concern of U.S. space leaders will be that of using the pool of astronauts to good effect.

He said NASA is working on this and one possibility is the operation of earth orbital missions with left-over Apollo command service modules.

There is also the prospect of missions involving rendezvous and docking of those vehicles with cosmonaut-manned Soviet spacecraft, he said.

Your Horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when it is advisable that you take no chances where either your reputation or anything of a basic nature is concerned. Be sure to keep your foundational structure protected carefully even though you desire greatly to make some TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You want to make some radical changes, but you would do well to study conditions more before taking any action. A new contact can give good advice about this also. Take it easy tonight at home.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You want to go off on some tangent early and leave responsibilities that require immediate attention, so think twice and then do what is right. Closest tie may be in a bad humor. Exercise patience and all will be fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Cooperate more with an associate and get much accomplished instead of wanting him to go off on some tangent with you. A problem of a public nature crops up which needs careful handling. Relax in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't permit all that work ahead of you to put you in a frenzy, but dig in and do as much as you can, and all will be fine. Build up your physical health sensibly. Don't waste time with unimportant things.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Recreation could prove to be most expensive or worthless, so get busy with other activities now instead. Your mate is worried, so keep silent and all will work out excellently. Do not argue at all.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Why complain about little annoyances? Handle them cleverly. Don't you realize how dull life would be without them? The rest of the day is excellent for all that detailed work you love. Do some serious research and really have a ball, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you go on losing that temper of yours everywhere, you can certainly make your life difficult. Become more philosophical and all is fine, associates will respect you more. You are an idealist, so prove it especially where sex is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are not as bad off monetary-wise as you think. Count your blessings and they will multiply if you put that gray matter to work. Why don't you trust your hunches instead of those of others? Get smart.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are probably so jaded with usual fine pleasures you want to exchange them for the worthless, so thank your lucky stars and do not change unless for the better. Picking on good friends because you are bored is the first sign of foolish thinking. Refrain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Avoid groups and do some tall thinking before you put that new plan to work, or you find you could lose your shirt. Others come to you for assistance. Give only what you can easily afford. Teach them to stand on own two feet and do them a real favor.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have had fine favors from a person older than you are and now you have the opportunity to show appreciation. Do it or you will regret it. Avoid social matters and become acquainted with some new or old author. Have fun.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she is one of those very sensitive young people who must have a feeling of security early if the great promise in this chart is to be realized, so busy yourself to provide well. When this youngster matures, you as parents will be most happy that you did. Slant the education along business lines, since this youngster is a born merchandiser, whether male or female. Argumentative, but clever.

Jean Adams'

TEEN FORUM

JOB HUNTING: (Q.) I have a girl friend with an older sister who works. This girl told me I could get a job at the company where she works.

I went there and looked her up. She made me leave. She said I could get her fired hanging around. When I got home she called me and told me she had been fired.

Now their mother won't let me see my girl friend. She thinks I just used her to get to her sister. I love my girl friend but her mother doesn't believe I do. What do I do?—All messed up in Missouri.

(A.) You shouldn't have gone to see the girl at the company. You should have gone to the personnel office. That's where people go to look for jobs.

Many employers do not permit workers to have visitors during job hours. I doubt, though, that the girl was fired just because of your visit. Possibly there were already other complaints against her.

Visit your girl friend's mother and apologize for any trouble you may have caused. Talk to her about your personal interest in her younger daughter. Ask her to let you see your girl friend again.

CALLED: (Q.) I think I am called to be a nun. I am scared. I can't understand why. I am not holy at all. I am always getting into trouble.

I can't tell anyone. They would think I am a weirdo. One nun is a pretty good friend of mine. But how can I tell her? She knows how bad I am and would probably laugh in my face.—Afraid in New Jersey.

(A.) Do not fret about being imperfect. If God had to have perfect people to do His work He would have no one.

Tell your friend the nun about what you think. She will not laugh at you.

Scheduling Quite Dramatic

NEW YORK (AP) — Two-hour time block all sorts of odds and ends — specials, documentaries and, this week, a seven-year-old rerun of a circus show — were made public during the week. The schedules are really war plans in their competition for public attention.

Each of the three major networks schedule represents an attempt to keep intact program lineups that have demonstrated audience appeal and, at the same time, beef up weak points.

NBC, for instance, had its worst problems this past season on Tuesday nights. They started when two new series, "Sarge" and "The Funny Side," crumbled before ABC's and CBS's strong competition. Both were canceled and time periods reshuffled. Since mid-season NBC has been tossing into a couple of them to Sunday nights in an effort to strengthen that lineup.

"The Sandy Duncan Show" — a revised version of "Funny Face" — will be moved and so will "The New Dick Van Dyke Show" and the long-playing action show, "Mannix."

NBC's Sunday gambit involves transferring its successful "Mystery Theatre" — Peter Falk, Rock Hudson and Dennis Weaver, each with a miniseries — all of which promises to make Sunday evening a Nielsen battleground.

CBS, whose Saturday night schedule of situation comedies, starting with "All in the Family," has been almost impregnable, will move a

East took his jack of diamonds and without a moment's hesitation proceeded to cash the queen. Then he led a heart.

West wasn't at all happy about this turn of events. He discarded a heart on the fourth diamond but when South, who had discarded hearts for both hands on the last diamond, proceeded to cash a second heart, West was squeezed out of either a club or a spade and South had picked up an over-trick.

Harrisburg Jury...Progress

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Harrisburg Seven jury has reported progress in efforts to reach a verdict in the kidnap-bomb-conspiracy trial of anti-war priest Philip Berrigan and six other persons and it is continuing deliberations today.

Lawyers for the defendants continued to plead unsuccessfully for discharge of the jury, now in its seventh day of deliberations, insisting any decision reached would be "forced... coercive... gross injustice."

"At this stage of the game a no verdict is much more than a verdict," said defense lawyer Paul O'Dwyer.

Another member of the defense team, William Cunningham, claimed "this jury has deliberated longer than any other in federal court history"—and said that, too, was prejudicial.

Between last Thursday and Tuesday the jury had worked more than 52 hours.

A Justice Department spokesman said there aren't any records on the lengths of jury deliberations, and some lawyers reported there have been juries that had considered a case for more than a week.

Optimism rose for some kind of final decision on the nine unresolved counts in the 10-count indictment, or at least some of them, after U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman interrupted the jury's deliberations Tuesday afternoon.

The jury on Sunday had reported it was deadlocked on the count charging the seven peace activists conspired to kidnap presidential advisor Henry A. Kissinger, blow up tunnels that carry heat to federal buildings in Washington and vandalize draft board offices around the country.

It was unanimous on one count, convicting Berrigan of smuggling a letter out of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

"I told you Sunday if you felt you couldn't agree, if you were hopelessly deadlocked the court would have no choice but to discharge the jury," Herman said when he brought the nine women and three men back Tuesday. "I want to reiterate that again."

"Can you tell me if you have made any progress?"

"In the past two hours there has been progress made," responded jury foreman Harold C. Sheets, a tax accountant.

"Do you think there could be more progress made if you were to continue?" the judge asked.

"That's right," Sheets replied.

Bangladesh Questions Remain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recognition by the United States is expected to bring important economic benefits to Bangladesh but it leaves several diplomatic questions unresolved.

U.S. recognition, announced Tuesday, will open the way for Bangladesh to become a member of the World Bank and International Monetary fund, where the United States has an important voice.

Administration and banking officials alike say this could mean an important economic gain for the new country.

But the U.S. action is not likely to bring any quick reconciliation between the United States and India, according to American and Indian diplomats here, and it will not curb a potential Chinese veto when Bangladesh applies for United Nations membership.

Nor, according to the State Department, has recognition brought a U.S. decision on Pakistan's request for arms to replace losses suffered in the December war with India.

The war resulted in creation of Bangladesh in what had been East Pakistan.

Indian diplomatic sources in Washington have described U.S. recognition as long overdue and say it might have generated more goodwill in New Delhi had it come much earlier.

They also say that the Shanghai communiqué signed by President Nixon and Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, which called attention to the Indian alliance with the Soviet Union, aroused suspicion that Peking and Washington "made a deal behind our backs."

American officials predict it is going to be some time before the United States and India can sort out their disagreements.

One problem that remains is the delicate question of repatriation of war prisoners to Pakistan. The United States has disapproved of India's making recognition of Bangladesh by Pakistan a condition for the repatriation.

"The United States has no desire to perpetuate the estrangement which has characterized relations over the past year," a State Department official said. "We doubt that the Indians have any such desire either."

We do talk, but it is not yet on fundamental problems. We have begun by setting the stage and the recognition of Bangladesh has helped to do that."

MONTREAL (AP) — Six Cubans pleaded innocent in municipal court Tuesday to charges of illegal possession of weapons and obstructing a police officer in the course of his duty, following a bomb blast at the Cuban trade commission earlier Tuesday which left a guard dead.

The Cubans, five of whom gave their occupations as representatives of the Cuban government, were released on an undertaking by the Cuban consul that they would appear for trial without prejudice to their right to diplomatic immunity.

They were ordered to appear April 11 to have a trial date set.

Guillermo Gonzalez, 39, Eduardo Rivas, 26, and Pascual Acosta Armin, 33, were charged with illegal possession of weapons and obstructing a police officer.

Charged only with obstructing police were Angel Moraga, 33, Alejandro Suarez, 29, and S. Rafael Reyes, 32.

Suarez gave his occupation as clerk.

A spokesman for the external affairs department said in Ottawa that trade commissions normally do not enjoy the same immunity as embassy and consular staffs.

But, he said, "in this case, because of historical origins, the Cuban trade commission may have" and that the courts must decide.

He said that when the office was first established, it was classed as a sub-office of the Cuban consulate in Montreal, with all rights of the consulate including immunity.

But over the years, the office changed into a trade commission and it is not clear if the sub-consular status ever was removed.

The spokesman said that a notice had been issued two years ago by the external affairs office to consulates and embassies across the country saying that no firearms in their possession had to be registered in Canada. It was recently re-issued.

He also said that a clause agreed to at a recent international agreement stated that in case of a fire or disaster, local police or fire departments did not need permission to enter a foreign government building.

The explosion ripped a wide section of the top floor of the 12-story building at 3737 Metropolitan Boulevard East in the city's north end.

A Cuban man was found on the 12th floor of the building and died in a hospital. Another Cuban was released from hospital after being treated for minor injuries.

Chief Inspector Guy Toupin of Montreal police said the Cubans were guarding the building and refused police entrance after the blast.

The inspector said they were taken into custody and detained at a police station for about two hours before being released "on orders from Ottawa."

Later, several Cuban officials and four guards were allowed back into the building. Insp. Toupin later emerged to say some Cubans had been detained.

Lieut. Larry Lewis said a chief inspector was "punched in the nose by one of the Cubans."

Nixon Critics Planning Series On Wage-Price Complaints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional critics who say the Nixon administration has mishandled wage-price controls are planning a cross-country series of hearings to provide a forum for complaints.

While there has been no official announcement, it was learned that the House Banking Committee is gearing up for public hearings that would begin in Washington, then move to various cities throughout the country.

The groundwork was laid last month when Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., wrote President Nixon that the control program was not being carried out in accordance with congressional intentions and that, unless changes were made, the committee was prepared to reopen hearings and possibly recommend amendments to the Economic Stabilization Act which it steered to passage at Nixon's request in 1970.

Since Patman wrote the letter, controversy over the economic-control program has been sharpened by the resignation of four of the five labor members of the Pay Board and by an abrupt rise in food prices.

One set of hearings on wage and price control, on a somewhat lower key, is already assured.

The Senate-House Economic Committee has announced it will call witnesses beginning April 18 for an overview of the control program. Among those testifying will be members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, the heads of the Pay Board and Price Commission, and AFL-CIO President George Meany, who led the labor walkout.

The joint committee's jurisdiction is limited to studies and recommendations. It cannot, like the Banking and other legislative committees, report bills for action.

If current plans are carried out, the Banking Committee's hearings probably would begin in May and extend over several weeks, a timetable that would keep the economic issue simmering until the political-convention season opens in July.

Senate Now Considering War Power Limits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today begins consideration of amendments to a bill to initiate war, declared or undeclared, that would limit the power of a president to make war.

In prepared Senate speeches, Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., the Senate majority whip, and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., joined in support of the measure to require prior approval of Congress for most use of the armed forces.

The bill would permit the President to commit U.S. troops for 30 days only to repel attack on U.S. territory and armed forces, forestall threat of attack, and to rescue Americans in danger abroad.

The bill is "needed to prevent the involvement of our country in future Vietnam," Byrd said in asserting that Congress has the sole constitutional authority to initiate war, declared or undeclared.

The measure, said Percy, will "serve to save presidents from undertaking military adventures contrary to the wishes of the American people."

Leading the opposition, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., told the Senate Tuesday the bill is "unrealistic, unwise and unconstitutional."

"It makes no sense from the standpoint of safe or intelligent military planning," Goldwater said. "It is disruptive of our entire mutual security system which now safeguards world order... And it invalidly prohibits the president in the exercise of his constitutional power."

ment would delete the exemption of current hostilities, lest it imply congressional sanction for the constitutionality of the Vietnam war.

Pending amendments include two by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A supporter of the bill in the bringing it to the Senate floor, Fulbright said he thinks it goes too far in that some provisions "could be construed as sanctioning a preemptive, or first strike, attack solely on the president's own judgment."

Fulbright proposes that the bill simply authorize the president "to respond to any act or situation" for 30 days if it endangers the United States or its citizens. He would bar the use of nuclear weapons except in reacting to a nuclear attack.

Another Fulbright amendment

Bomb Rips Youth Office In Downtown Belfast

BELFAST, AP — A bomb explosion ripped through a youth employment office in downtown Belfast today, setting the building on fire, but there were no casualties. It was the first bombing in downtown Belfast in almost a week.

Three armed men believed to be Irish Republican Army guerrillas were seen throwing the bomb into the office as morning rush hour crowds filled the streets, the British army said.

British troops and guerrillas traded shots during the night in Londonderry, where IRA leaders agreed to talk with Roman Catholic supporters who favor scaling down the violence.

The army said terrorists fired on an observation post and a patrol near the Londonderry city wall in two separate flareups. There were no casualties.

In Belfast, a 26-year-old man was hospitalized with a bullet in his thigh in a post-midnight shooting.
